NEWTON COLLECTION

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

Erected July 23, 1864.

THE SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

AT a Town Meeting of the inhabitants of Newton, held on the 7th day of August, A.D. 1863, a committee was chosen with authority to erect a Monument to the soldiers of Newton who had fallen in the war of the Rebellion.

In order that all might share in this grateful tribute, a donation of one dollar was solicited from each inhabitant; and nearly twelve hundred dollars were received from this source. More than eleven hundred children of the public schools contributed each one dime; and the remainder necessary to construct the Monument, to grade and surround the lot with a suitable curb-stone, together with the erection of an appropriate entablature, has been cheerfully contributed by the generous friends of the soldiers in the Town.

The Monument itself, with the entablature, cost $3,975 50

The curb-stone and posts 1,245 00

The work has been completed at an expense of $5,220 50

It stands in the cemetery, upon a lot of land given by the Town. The Trustees of the Cemetery Corporation are to keep the grounds in good order and condition. The Monument is an octagonal shaft of Quincy granite, resting upon a die and plinths of the same material, and is twenty-eight feet in height. Upon the front of the die are inscribed the words, "In Memoriam Perpetuam." Near the Monument is the entablature, on which is carved the motto "Pro patria mortui sunt," bearing the names of fifty-seven brave men of Newton, who offered up their lives in the cause of Freedom and the Union.

In the erection of this Monument, our patriotic citizens have gracefully performed a grateful public duty; and the work will stand as a perpetual honor to the brave heroes who have fallen, and to the noble spirit of our people.

INTEREST.

The Town is paying a large amount of interest money, as will be seen, yet we believe it is a wise policy to do so, rather than to tax the people to pay all the debt at present. The rate paid by the Town is less than six per centum, while the money is worth to every business man seven or more. The debt of the Town has been increased the past year $18,060.81, and is now $295,435.12. The cause of the increase of the debt instead of its reduction ($14,700), as voted at the last March meeting, may be seen by reference to the Auditors' Report, page 14. The debt of the Town is quite small, considering the large amount of real and personal property subject to taxation to pay the same. The whole could be paid in three or four years, if considered desirable, without distressing our tax-payers.

SCHOOLS.

The appropriations must be increased year by year in this department. The large increase of scholars renders a larger expenditure necessary. Few towns are more liberal in providing for schools than Newton, and nowhere is the money more cheerfully paid. It will be seen by reference to the Report of the School Committee that the schools are in excellent condition. It is well understood that the sum proposed for schools and incidentals, though large, will all be required.

HIGHWAYS AND BRIDGES.

We are still of the opinion that the present plan of repairing highways is an improvement on any heretofore attempted by us, but we think that there is still room for improvement. We now have a great many miles of road, not all of which is in the best condition, and we are yearly laying out more, or accepting those that have been laid out by individuals, all of which need to be put in thorough order. It may be necessary to purchase more teams, carts, etc., to be located in villages remote from the Almshouse, where most of the teams are now kept, so that the work may not be neglected at any season of the year. In view of this, and the fact that some new roads are to be built and others to be improved at considerable expense, and the stone-crusher to be run, we have recommended an increase for highways. We are of the opinion that the roads of Newton, though as a general thing very good, should be made still better, and the Town become as noted for its good roads as it is for its schools, its enterprise, its beautiful homes, and its general intelligence. The road from Newton Centre to Harbach's Corner has been built in accordance with the order of the County Commissioners. A large amount of broken stone at the east end of the tunnel of the aqueduct, located quite near this new road, has been purchased, and we hope to locate the stone-crusher there before the first of March. There has been some delay in getting this machine into place, but it is hoped that a good supply of rubble-stone will be prepared for the roads during March and April of this year. Much of the rock purchased is already fine enough for the roads, or could easily and without much expense be made so by the use of hammers. We are of the opinion that the Town act wisely when they refuse to lay out narrow roads, and that in future all persons who build streets that they expect the Town to assume should be sure that none are less than forty feet wide, while many should be from fifty to sixty feet in width.

The Committee chosen at a former meeting of the town to consider this subject will in their report give us much valuable information. The last Legislature voted a sum of money that has been offered as prizes for treatises on road-making and road-repairing, and it is to be hoped that some good results may come from this movement. Instead of making a separate item for bridges, as we have done heretofore, we include the repairing of bridges with that for highways, as they are all under the care of the Selectmen.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

During the past season we have built a new engine-house at the Lower Falls, on land purchased for the purpose, and have procured a new hand-engine, to be placed in the same. Much new hose has been purchased for the several engines, and this department is now in excellent condition. We recommend the same sum ($10,000) this year as was appropriated last year. We do this because we believe the Town will adopt the report of a Committee of Selectmen and Engineers, who were instructed to examine into the subject of the pay of firemen, and report at the March meeting. That Committee believe that the pay should be increased, and will so report.

ALMSHOUSE EXPENSES.

We recommend the same sum as last year. The number of the poor at the Almshouse has not materially changed. Mr. Ware and his efficient wife continue to manage this department in the most satisfactory manner. Mr. Ware will continue as Warden, having been engaged for the ensuing year.

INSURANCE.

We have had an opportunity the past year to realize the benefit of being insured, and the twenty-five thousand dollars that will be received on account of the school-house burned at the Centre on the 14 of November last will go far towards building another house on the same spot. For a detailed statement of insurance of the property of the Town, see the Auditors' Report, which makes an excellent exhibit in favor of insuring. The amount recommended for Insurance is larger than that of last year, because of the amount that will be needed on the school-house to be erected at Newton Centre.

POLICE.

The sum recommended for this department is quite an advance on that of any previous year, and made necessary because of the appointment of a night police at West Newton, as at Newton Corner, and payment for special police duty in other parts of the Town. Though we have the reputation, and deservedly so, of being peaceable and quiet people, we cannot well dispense with the services of the faithful policemen in the larger villages.

LIGHTING STREETS.

It will be observed that this item is increasing from year to year. Gas has generally taken the place of kerosene. There has been some complaint the past year in regard to the quality and quantity of gas supplied, as well as the lighting of the street lamps. It is not easy to secure reliable men to perform the duty of lighting and keeping the lamps in repair, even though the best of material is furnished. The lamps are scattered over so large a space, that without a horse it is difficult to light and put out at the proper hours, and in stormy nights they do not always receive a visit of the lamplighter. The burners used have not been sufficient, and in some cases have been replaced by those of greater capacity. While there are many who would cut off the appropriation for lighting streets, we would, on the whole, advise its continuance.

TOWN HALL.

Among the appropriations of the past year were those for the alteration of the Town Hall and the furnishing of the same. We believe that the Town must be fully satisfied that this money has been judiciously expended, and that the necessity for a new Town Hall has been by this arrangement postponed for several years. Something more is needed to finish the rooms in the basement, and make some further improvements about the premises.

We hope all the citizens will carefully examine the Auditors' Report, to see what has been done with the money they have paid in taxes the past year, and as far as possible attend the Annual Town Meeting and show their interest in the good management of the affairs of the Town.

NEWTON, Feb. 12, 1870.

REPORT OF ENGINEERS

OF THE

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

THIS Department is in good condition, and will compare favorably with that of any other town in the Commonwealth. The liberality of the Town in appropriating money to promote its efficiency is to be seen in the erection of two elegant engine-houses,—one at Newton Corner, and the other at Lower Falls; the steamer and new hose-carriage; the new hand-engine at Lower Falls; the four other hand-engines in different parts of the town; and the abundant supply of new hose.

The new Cataract No. 1, at Lower Falls, is a superior engine of her class, and has proved to be all that was desired or expected of her. She is manned by a full company, in good condition; they have worked at five fires, and turned out at four alarms, during the past year. Their new house is a model of its kind, and has all the modern improvements, and gives entire satisfaction to the Board of Engineers and to the company, who take a deep interest in their organization.

Triton No. 3 is in good working condition, and has done much good service during the year. The company disbanded in September last; but a new company was promptly formed by citizens of West Newton, who hold themselves in readiness for duty in the village.

Mechanic No. 4 has a full company, and has worked at several fires during the year with their usual promptness and efficiency. It is an old machine, but will not suffer in comparison with any other engine of its size.

Nonantum No. 5 has no company, but has been kept at Newton Corner as a reserve, in case a fire should occur when the steamer was absent.

Empire No. 5 is lying idle at Newton Corner, — a large, unwieldy machine. It is not needed, and we recommend that it be sold at once.

Eagle No. 6, at Newton Centre, has a company for the first time in several years. They have been out to three fires within the year; the engine is a good one, and in perfect repair.

Newton No. 1 steamer has worked at nine fires, and turned out at seven alarms when it did not work. There is a company attached to the steamer consisting of fifteen men, including engineer and fireman. It has proved a success, has done much good service during the past year, and has been the means of saving many thousands of dollars' worth of property.

The expense of maintaining the steamer is necessarily large; but we think the Town will never regret its action in providing such ample means for putting out fires. The result, so far, certainly proves the wisdom of the investment; and in this connection we would suggest, that a hook and ladder carriage, with the necessary equipments, would very greatly promote the efficiency of the Department. The want of this branch of the service is often severely felt; and buildings are burned down solely because no ladders can be obtained to conduct the hose to the seat of the fire. The duties of hose-men at fires are such as require their whole attention; they have no time to search for ladders; and it often happens that, when ladders can be produced, it is too late, and the property is sacrificed.

We would recommend the purchase of such an establishment, to be located at Newtonville or some other central point of the town.

The insufficient supply of water, in some parts of the town, to feed and supply the engines, especially the steamer, is worthy of remark; but as a committee, chosen by the Town, are expected to report measures soon to correct this evil, we leave the question here, confident that proper measures will be taken by the town at the next annual meeting.

Great loss is often suffered at fires by reason of irresponsible persons being allowed to rush into buildings on fire, or in danger of being burned, and destroy or carry away valuable property; and frequently disturbances occur at fires, and violence is sometimes used. For the better protection of persons and property, we would earnestly recommend the appointment of a Fire Police, for duty at fires in Newton.

REGISTRAR'S REPORT FOR 1869.

THE following statistics of Births, Intentions of Marriage, Marriages, and Deaths, in Newton, prepared by the Clerk, are for the year 1869; beginning with Jan. 1st, and ending with Dec. 31st:—

BIRTHS.

Whole number for the year,	262	IN THE VILLAGES.
Males	115	Newton Corner	71
Females	147	West Newton	46
	262	Newton Centre	45
Of American parents	139	Newtonville	33
Of Irish parents	83	Upper Falls	25
Of English parents	16	Auburndale	15
Of parents from British Prov. .	10	Lower Falls	14
Of other foreign parents . . .	14	North Village	13
	262		262
More than in 1868	1
Colored, included in the above,	1

There were 22 others recorded, mostly those who were born in other places, and had removed to Newton previous to the time of taking the registration. These would be likely to have no record, if not recorded in Newton.

There were three pairs of twins born in Newton in 1869.

The least number of births in any one month was 14, in January; the greatest number was 33, in August; and the same in October.

INTENTIONS OF MARRIAGE.

The whole number of couples who received certificates was . . 111

In which both parties belonged to Newton 53

In which but one party belonged to Newton 58

Making 164 persons of Newton who entered their intentions, and who, probably, were all married; 9 persons less than during the year 1868.

The Record of Intentions of Marriage shows the true number of Newton people who are married; the law requiring a certificate from the City or Town Clerk where each party resides. Clergymen and others, who perform the marriage ceremony, should remember this requirement of law.

MARRIAGES.

The whole number of Marriages recorded in Newton for 1869, is 109 couples; 5 couples less than in 1868.

In which one or both parties belonged to Newton 95 couples.

In which neither party belonged to Newton 14 "

The greatest number of marriages in any one month was 16, in November; the least number was 3, in March.

The first marriage of 198 persons.

The second " 19 "

The third " 1 "

218

DEATHS.

The whole number of Deaths, in Newton, in 1869, was 138, which is 2 more than in 1868.

The oldest person who died in Newton during the year was Eliza Furbur, 90 yrs. 6 mos. 17 days old.

	<hr/> 138		<hr/> 138

By the best information we have, we estimate the population of Newton to be about 10,300.

Taking that as correct, by the above return, the proportion of deaths to the population has been 1 in 75. Consumption still leads as a disease among us; but its proportion of victims has been far less the last two years than formerly. In the years 1858 and 1859, about one-fourth of all the deaths in Newton were by consumption; in 1860 and 1861, about one in six and one-half; in 1862 and 1863, about one in seven; in 1864 and 1865, about one in six; in 1866 and 1867, about one in five and three-fourths; in 1868 and 1869, about one in eight and three-fourths.

It is believed, that the favorable change in the proportionate mortality by this disease, in Newton, during the last ten years, has been caused, in a great degree, by better protecting the feet from cold and wet. Still, this is, and perhaps always will be, the leading disease of this region; and that fact should admonish us all to be vigilant in guarding against its first attacks, which are more to be dreaded than the small-pox or cholera. During the past year, the scarlet fever has been more mortal than it usually is; and this may, perhaps, in part be attributed to the want of continued care over the patient after health begins to return. We cannot often tell what the sequel to that disease will be for some time after the disease has apparently left the patient.

POPULATION AND MORTALITY IN NEWTON FOR TEN YEARS PAST.

The following Table is very nearly correct:—

In 1860	Population (U. S. Census)	8,382	Deaths 94	One in 89
1861	"	8,600	" 136	" 63
1862	"	8,700	" 93	" 94
1863	"	8,750	" 149	" 59
1864	"	8,850	" 135	" 66
1865	" (State Census)	8,978	" 127	" 71
1866	"	9,100	" 116	" 78
1867	"	9,310	" 133	" 70
1868	"	9,900	" 136	" 73
1869	"	11,000	" 138	" 79

By the above table it appears, that for the nine years immediately preceding last year the average of deaths has been one in about seventy-four of our population; and last year, one in seventy-nine; while the average mortality in our State has usually been about one in fifty-four. Notwithstanding Newton is one of the most healthy towns in our land, yet the probability is that more than one hundred of our citizens, within the current year, will need a quiet resting-place from the toils and cares of life; and this thought leads me to say a few words about our—

NEWTON CEMETERY.

DURING the past year, the trustees have added to the area of the cemetery ten acres, making the whole area now about eighty acres, situated in the territorial centre of Newton, having a front on Walnut Street of 400 feet; on Beacon Street, about 600 feet; and on Homer Street, 1,000 feet. This additional land has been purchased partly to secure a good place for our new gate and entrance, and partly to obtain good land, for a moderate price, for the future Newton. The gate has been erected, and the new entrance mostly graded; and we believe, when the surroundings are completed, the gate and entrance will be satisfactory to the citizens of Newton.

A number of improvements have been made in the cemetery, besides the gate and entrance, the past year. The valley appropriated to tombs has been thoroughly, and we think permanently, drained; so that surface-water will no more trouble us. A number of dry wells have been constructed in certain localities for the reception of surface-water; large numbers of flowering shrubs and plants have been obtained and prepared for lot-holders and others.

The trustees have nearly fifty lots, of different sizes, graded, and ready for use; and have recently located some fifteen lots north and east of the Soldiers' Monument lot, which are, perhaps, the most desirable lots in the cemetery. Probably there will never be a better opportunity to select desirable lots than the coming spring.

We still think we have the best spot in Newton for a cemetery for the whole town; that it has never looked better than it has the past year; and that under the care of our excellent superintendent, it is becoming more and more popular; and we invite those heads of families who have not selected their lots to visit the Newton Cemetery in early spring, and examine the lots above alluded to.

We again suggest to lot-holders the great importance of providing, by will or otherwise, for the continued care of their lots after they and their families, and perhaps their friends, shall have passed away and be quietly resting in those lots.

MARSHALL S. RICE, Registrar.

Newton Centre, Feb. 8, 1870.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE

ON THE

APPOINTMENT OF ROAD-ENGINEER, AND ON THE SUBJECTS OF LAYING OUT NEW STREETS AND OF DRAINAGE.

AT the annual March meeting of the town of Newton for the year 1869, the undersigned were appointed a Committee "to take into consideration the appointment of a road-engineer to have supervision of the roads in Newton, in connection with the Selectmen, and to survey the town, with reference to the laying out of new streets: — the Committee to report at the next town meeting."

The Committee gave immediate attention to the subject, and made a report upon the question submitted to them at a special town meeting held on the 3d of May, 1869. This report they caused to be printed, and distributed at the stations and in the town meeting. To afford a more complete understanding of the whole subject, it is herewith submitted, as follows: —

REPORT SUBMITTED TO TOWN MEETING, MAY 3, 1869.

Your Committee consider that the question of the employment of a road engineer largely involves the question whether the roads of the town of Newton shall continue to be repaired in the old-fashioned, temporizing manner, or whether the work shall be done thoroughly; and they are satisfied that the true interests of the town will be best promoted by employing the best attainable engineering skill; by having the roads over which heavy teams travel macadamized with broken stone, and also by having the gravelled roads, as well as the broken stone roads, underdrained in all places where springs manifest themselves, or where higher land adjacent to the road makes it wet and muddy. The test of a road is its condition in bad weather and its power of sustaining heavy teams without being cut up in ruts or pounded full of holes; and certainly some of the roads of Newton, although in fair condition in dry weather, are not able to resist rains nor sustain heavy teams. Should the town purchase a stone-crusher, and decide to repair with broken stone, it will still be no less necessary to underdrain, or in some suitable way relieve the road-bed of water, or the macadamizing will not be effectual. A good engineer has the gathered and recorded experience of communities and nations. He knows, or should know, the relative qualities and degree of adaptation of different kinds of rocks for the purpose of macadamizing; he can detect anything in the subsoil which renders it unfit for a road bed, and suggest a remedy. He can calculate the area of rainfall in a given precinct and determine the amount of drainage, and the necessary size of culverts and bridges. He can grade drains, both surface and concealed, at the proper angle, and select the most feasible route for their construction. He would know about different crushing machines, their prices and relative value. His knowledge and suggestions would save the town many times his salary by enabling the town to avoid useless and perhaps costly expense. And it may be hoped that in a couple of years our present Superintendent, or some other person, would have thus received such hints and information as would enable him to manage our roads without the supervision of an engineer.

It may be apprehended that these recommendations, if carried into effect, would involve a large if not useless outlay. In answer to this it can be stated, by way of illustration, that the bill of a first-rate engineer, Mr. J. H. Shedd, for superintending the roads of Brookline, was but $312 for an entire year. It will doubtless cost more in the outset to repair or build a road with broken stone, but the work, if properly done, will last with but slight repairs for years.

The town of Waltham macadamizes its principal streets. It keeps ten to fifteen men under constant employ, and much of the time on the roads,—one of these men has thus been engaged for twenty years. Its superintendent of roads has held his situation twelve years; his salary as road-master is $800; he is also paid $100 as highway surveyor. Waltham, in 1865, had 51 miles of road, and for the previous seven years its roads had cost the town an average of $3,357 a year, or about $66 a mile. It cost that town the past year, for repairs of roads and clearing off snow, $6,000 for sixty miles of road. The town of Newton expended for repairs and clearing off snow in the same time on eighty-two miles the sum of $14,523, or $176 a mile. It will thus be seen that our system of partial or incomplete repair is almost twice as expensive as the Waltham system.

But this is taking the most narrow view of the subject. An editorial in a recent Boston paper says: "The heaviest part of our highway tax is no doubt that which is levied upon us by the destruction of horse-flesh, the impeding of public travel, the wear of vehicles, and the increased cost of transportation over our poor roads. This is a tax which without any assessor or collector is inexorably exacted from every barrel of flour, every bag of grain, every box of goods, and every person passing over our travelled roads. As it is levied indirectly, and, more than all, as we have always paid it, nobody thinks of it. But it is one of the heaviest burdens resting on the people of Massachusetts and of New England, borne by those who rank among the most thrifty and progressive people on earth, and who, nevertheless, in this everyday matter are demonstrably rather more than two thousand years behind the world." That this is not imaginary, statistics show. General Morin found, by careful experiment, that "carriages on springs, drawn upon a new road covered with gravel five inches thick, required in tractive force one-eighth the load; upon a solid causeway of earth, with gravel one and a half inch thick, one-tenth the load; upon a causeway of earth in very good condition, one twenty-sixth the load; upon a broken stone road, very smooth, one forty-fifth the load; upon a broken stone road, moist or dusty, one-thirtieth the load; upon a broken stone road, with ruts and mud, one-twentieth the load; upon a broken stone road, with deep ruts and thick mud, the tractive force required was one-tenth the load." It will thus be seen that the smooth causeway of earth, in very good condition, required but one twenty-sixth of its weight in tractive force to draw it, while the smooth broken stone road required only one forty-fifth the weight of the load in tractive force.

Before the invention of railways, the attention of engineers in Great Britain and on the continent of Europe was largely given to the construction of common roads and turnpikes upon which the heavy travel of those nations depended. Telford built, more than fifty years ago, 800 miles of road in the Highlands of Scotland, still admirable and in constant use. The roads built by the French engineers of the First Empire are still among the finest in the world. No one that has travelled over the Simplon road, or the Mt. Cenis road, or from the St. Barnard pass to Martigny, or all around the Bay of Naples to Sorrento, on a road built by Murat, and which the lazy Italians have had the grace to let alone, can possibly resist the claims of a good, smooth, hard road. It adds new charms to scenery, and imparts a fresh zest to life. MacNeill constructed a machine to test the amount of tractive power required on different roads. This was carefully tested by many very eminent engineers. Their experiments showed, uniformly, that the force of traction is, in every case, nearly in exact proportion to the strength and hardness of a road. They found that on a road made with a thick coating of gravel, a load which required the power of 147 pounds to draw it could be drawn on a broken stone road with a power of 65 pounds; and on a road of broken stone of great hardness, laid on a foundation of large stones set in the form of a pavement, the power required to remove the same load was but 46 pounds and this last road effectually resisted frosts.

On the 6th instant your Committee visited Waltham, and found the broken stone road there dry and hard. It will sustain loads of six tons without being cut into ruts. Returning, we came down through Waltham street, and, observing the instant of passing from town to town in the changed character of the road, we passed on to Newtonville over our fine old avenue! The first road required scarce any mending. The last was cut up with ruts and full of mud, and workmen were dumping gravel four to six inches deep upon it. On the Waltham road it required not more than one-fortieth the weight of the load (say 20 lbs.) in tractive force to draw it, while on the main road of the good, rich, old town of Newton, it would have required one-eighth the weight of the load (100 lbs.) in tractive force to draw it. That this criticism is not especially in the interest of persons driving in light carriages and for pleasure, may be seen from the fact, — as demonstrated by careful and extended experiment, — that resistance to the onward motion of the carriage or cart, arising from roughness of the road, is always in proportion to the weight of the carriage. A double weight will offer double resistance, and a triple weight triple resistance, and so on. The principal objection of some, who have had little or no experience with the broken stone road, is, that it is unfit to drive horses rapidly upon: such a road improperly made, or imperfectly hardened, is indeed unsuitable for rapid driving; but it requires only a journey of three hundred miles to see millionaires driving the finest trotters in the world upon roads as smooth as a floor, made entirely of stone.

The city of Boston, will soon complete its reservoir and driveway and then the pleasure-driving from Boston and vicinity will set, in a vigorous stream, towards our eastern limit. If we encourage with good roads we shall speedily derive therefrom a great and permanent advantage. The pleasant farms south of Bald Pate Hill, the meadows along Boylston Street, the romantic beauties of both villages on the Falls of the Charles, the handsome estates on Centre, Walnut, Chestnut, and Waltham streets, and in the Parks of what has been called "the Corner," will become known and we doubt not admired. Can any measure be more likely to increase the popularity of our town, or add to its population, than to construct roads as solid, smooth, and perfect as the nature of the case will admit?

With regard to the survey of the town for laying out future avenues and streets, we would strongly urge the adoption of the measure. But it would seem best that the work should be done by a commission of three in consultation with an engineer. Many years ago the upper part of the island upon which New York is built was thus surveyed and laid out by a commission. The present broad avenues and wide streets are the result of the wise foresight that suggested the plan. Should Newton be thus surveyed and mapped, and the plan adopted by the Town, this plan with the conditions and restrictions upon which the Town would accept of streets might be lithographed and a copy distributed to each house. Every land-owner would then know precisely on what conditions he could open a street and get it accepted. Our public and private improvements would be made on a pre-determined and uniform scheme, and the town officers would be saved much petty and pestering solicitation; the laying out of crooked or narrow streets prevented; uniformity of grade secured, and regularity of plan enforced.

But perhaps the most weighty reason for a survey at the present time is that it will enable the town to determine properly the main lines of drainage. With an open country it is easy to ascertain the springs and water-courses, and to gauge the required size of drains; put off to a later period, and difficulties multiply in almost geometrical ratio with each year's delay.

We would in conclusion, recommend an appropriation of not over $350 for the services of Mr. J. H. Shedd or some other good engineer, to be employed by the Selectmen for the present season, the engineer to report upon the subject in print with the next annual report, and also the appropriation of a suitable sum for the purchase of a stone-crusher and the necessary equipments therefor.

We would also recommend the election, at this town meeting, of a committee of three, with power to employ an engineer to survey and map out the proper avenues, streets, and drains of the town, determine their width and grade, and report in print upon the same at the next annual March meeting.

The report was accepted and adopted. It will be seen that it recommends macadamizing the roads over which heavy teams travel; the employment of Mr. J. H. Shedd, or some other good road engineer, for the then current year; the appropriation of a suitable sum for the purchase of a stone-crusher and the necessary equipment therefor, and finally, the election of a committee to map out future avenues, streets, and drains.

The town meeting voted to appropriate $350 for the payment of the town engineer. It also voted that "a committee of three be appointed with power to employ the town engineer, at a cost of not over $500, to survey and map out the proper avenues, streets, and drains of the town, determine their width and grade, and report in print upon the same at the next annual March meeting." The undersigned were thereupon appointed as this Committee.

The adoption of their report implied the appointment of Mr. J. H. Shedd as town engineer, but the Committee, not feeling warranted in employing him without express authority from the Board of Selectmen, immediately applied for the requisite decision; there was some delay, and it was not until the 21st of June, 1869, that a vote of the Board on the subject was mailed to them. The vote was as follows: —

NEWTON CENTRE, June 21, 1869.

Copy of a vote passed by the Selectmen, June 3d, 1869.

"Voted, that when this Board required the services of a consulting engineer, Mr. J. H. Shedd be employed for that purpose."

Attest,

MARSHALL S. RICE,

Town Clerk of Newton.

This delayed the work to the heats of summer, and to a time when unavoidable engagements seriously interfered with the business submitted to them.

On consultation with Mr. Shedd, it was considered that the subject of drainage and the proper treatment of the brooks of the town required their first attention, and they accordingly entered upon a careful examination of these water-courses and their culverts. Nearly all the culverts have been measured, and their present size is noted upon a map of the town, which has been enlarged by the Engineer from a small one now in use. The question of aiding the improvement of Cheese Cake Brook having been referred to them at the town meeting of November 2d., they deemed it best to have an accurate survey of the brook made by the Town Engineer. This was done, and the Engineer has made a map and profile of the brook from Washington Street to the lower crossing of Watertown Street, which will be filed in the office of the Selectmen. His report upon its culverts and water-course will be herewith submitted in manuscript to the annual meeting, together with a brief statement concerning the condition of the brook at Newton Corner, and suggestions upon the subject of a survey of Hammond Pond and Baptist Pond brooks. He has also embodied his views upon the opening of new streets and avenues, and a preliminary topographical survey of the town, as being very desirable with reference to the proper treatment of such a work. Some extracts from the report, showing how emphatically the engineer sustains and corroborates the views of the Committee, may not be out of place. On the subject of opening and building new avenues, he says: —

“The growth of the town calls for the laying out of new roads from time to time. New villages grow up and require roads to the other villages. In many such cases, the existing roads are circuitous, unnecessarily hilly, and wholly unfit for the increased travel thrown upon them. Crooked and hilly roads sometimes become important thoroughfares in this way. Such routes may sometimes be greatly improved by building short pieces of new road, saving distance and avoiding hills.

“Many of the streets in the closely-settled parts of the town were originally made by private enterprise to open land for sale for building purposes. In the many cases of this kind, land-owners consider only their own immediate interest, and ignore the public interests. Hence result many streets and places which are of no value excepting to the houses located on them.

“It might be expected that self-interest would induce proprietors to lay out their lands with some regard to health and general attractiveness. This is done in some cases; but we find many violations of the plainest sanitary rules, such as building a house where it will be surrounded by back-yards, out-houses and cesspools, and communicate with the street by a long narrow lane. Many houses even in Newton are crowded into narrow, blind alleys. The Town ought to use every legitimate means to prevent such offences against civilization.

“After a time, when these private streets are occupied by houses, and any alteration is difficult, the Town is asked to accept them and lay them out as highways; and thus the Town is pecuniarily interested in their location.

“Co-operation from the start between the builders of such private ways and the town authorities is evidently desirable; and the adoption of measures tending to promote this is strongly recommended. If this cannot be brought about, the Town will find itself burdened with the maintenance of streets which perhaps suit the abutters but accommodate nobody else, or be obliged to reject many applications for the acceptance of badly-located ways, as it has, very judiciously, decided to reject streets less than forty feet wide.

“Every tax-payer and every land-holder is pecuniarily interested in making the town attractive to new-comers who will add to the taxable property and furnish employment to the laboring people of the town.

“In those parts of the town which are closely settled or likely to become so, the public health must suffer from the crowding together of houses so as to interfere seriously with each other’s sunshine, ventilation, and drainage.

“The above may be summed up as follows:—

“All new roads should be part of a well-considered general system for meeting the wants of the public, especially by improving the routes between the different villages, and not by mere disconnected attempts at local improvement. It appears to me that the town should take the initiative in this matter, by arranging such a general system, adhering to it in the future, and inviting the co-operation of land-owners. In establishing such a system of streets, the following points must be kept in mind. The streets should be so located that they will be straight, level, or very nearly so; free from sanitary objections, adapted to add to the general attractiveness of the town, cheap to build, cheap to maintain, and satisfactory to the individual land-holders. * * * * The engineering data necessary may be summed up in the phrase, knowledge of the ground, including the character of the soil, and whether springy or dry, the undulations of the surface, plans and profiles of the streams, plans of the side lines, character of surface as to shedding rainfall, plans and profiles of existing roads, land lines, and in some instances of buildings, etc.”

Under the head of Drainage, the engineer shows that a growing population requires increasing attention to the subject; that where it is so large as to throw off more refuse matter than can be with safety absorbed in the ground or carried off in the streams, drainage must be provided; that the brooks naturally become the media for drainage, but when used for such purposes they need proper treatment, which requires engineering surveys; that the Town is the proper party to make these surveys, and — when the right time arrives — to make the improvements; that for such purposes, and for the general purpose of laying out suitable streets and avenues in the town, the present maps are not sufficiently accurate and of little value. To show that such a survey is no new thing, he adduces the experience of other towns that are now causing surveys to be made in the manner and for the purposes recommended.

From the examinations and surveys made, it became evident to your Committee that the culverts on Cheese Cake Brook all need to be enlarged whenever they are rebuilt; that the channel of the brook at Cherry Street should be deepened eighteen inches, and that both the culvert at Cherry Street and the channel back of the Town Hall should be widened. If the Town decides to rebuild the culvert and enlarge the brook at that point, it would seem best to make the culvert large enough to accommodate any ordinary demand likely to occur upon it in times of heavy rain, for the next ten years, and to widen the channel correspondingly. But we cannot recommend enlarging the culverts on Cheese Cake Brook before such time as the owners of lands along its course are willing to unite with the Town in a comprehensive system of improvement. And until such time as there is such concurrent action, it would seem best merely to raise the culvert and the street, say one or two feet. For the enlarged improvement of Cheese Cake Brook the survey now made affords a well-defined plan and reliable data; it also forms, so far as completed, a part of the recommended town survey.

We recommend a survey of the small brook at Newton Corner, with the view of converting the lower end of it into a town drain, or of building a sewer near to and in the general direction of its lower end, to carry off surplus water and such impurities as now defile the brook.*

A survey of Hammond's Pond Brook, and of Baptist Pond Brook, and their affluents, with reference to drainage area and

*The town of Brookline have been making a sewer alongside of the brook that empties into Muddy River, near the railroad station at Brookline. The old culvert at the crossing of Washington Street in Brookline is six feet in diameter. They have made an additional culvert of six feet and a half in diameter, and continued it in a brick conduit for 1,700 feet along the railroad track to Muddy River. Into this conduit a system of sewers converge and empty. An entire range of streets having drainage towards the Brookline station are thus provided with the proper means of sending off all filth by an under-the proper size of new culverts, should be made. Such a survey would also give the existing streets, the heights and depressions of land, and the swamps and woodlands now included in those areas. It would be of permanent value to the town, affording accurate data upon which to act in rebuilding culverts and in laying out new streets and avenues. The time appears to us to have arrived for making such a survey, and we recommend an appropriation of $1,500 to defray the cost of the undertaking.

Some of the existing culverts urgently need rebuilding; one near the house of Mr. Horace Cousens, on Beacon Street, was in very bad condition at the time of our examination. In several places the culverts are either too small, or the bottom of the channel of the brook is too high, so that water backs upon the lands above the culvert, except at low water, and with each returning year the difficulty is almost certain to increase. We strongly recommend the Town not to accept any new culverts that have not been approved by the Town Engineer.

With regard to mapping out new streets and avenues in the Town, the Committee have no progress to report. They early called for suggestions from citizens interested, but the ground drain to tide-water. The expenditure for these particular improvements in Brookline in the past year is $45,000. The work has been done in a substantial manner, and with due regard to future wants. The culvert under Cypress Street is twelve feet wide. The drainage area of the brook at the lower crossing of Watertown Street is 1,300 acres, while that of Cheese Cake Brook is estimated at 3,000 acres.

In West Philadelphia there is a brook, small and insignificant in dry seasons, which becomes a torrent in a heavy rain. The brook has worn a deep and wide channel in the soft gneiss rock which underlies the whole precinct. The bed of the creek is more than fifty feet below the grade of Forty-second street, which is next east of it. The increasing population rendered sewage indispensable to carry off filth. It was finally determined to convert this brook or creek into a covered sewer. The engineer, Strickland Kneass, Esq., found the total drainage area to be five thousand acres; this immense area, coupled with the shallow soil, the paved streets and sidewalks which shed an unusually large per cent. of the rainfall, required a very large sewer. And being deeply depressed below the surface, it was necessary to build the sewer, at the outset, of the utmost required size. For nearly half a mile it is twenty feet wide and about eighteen feet high. It can actually discharge a greater volume of water than flows in Charles River in time of freshet.

delay in the appointment of an engineer, the insufficiency of the appropriation, and their subsequent engagements, prevented their giving that attention to the subject which its importance demands. They regard it, however, as a desirable, and in some sense an almost indispensable undertaking. The hilly and very uneven topography of the town occasions the necessity for a pre-arranged plan, and affords scope for engineering skill and the most cultivated taste.

Respectfully submitted,

E. F. WATERS,	} Committee.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

FOR THE

GOVERNMENT OF TOWN MEETINGS.

Approved by the Court, December 29, 1857.

1st. No final vote shall be reconsidered, unless the person moving the same shall have made a declaration of his intention to do so at the time of its adoption, and shall have been one of the majority acting thereon; and no article in any warrant shall be again taken into consideration, after it has been disposed of, unless ordered by a vote of two thirds of the voters present.

2d. No person shall speak more than twice upon any question, without first obtaining leave of the meeting, except for the correction of an error, or to make an explanation; and not until others, who have not spoken upon the question, shall speak, if they desire it.

3d. All motions submitted for consideration of the Town, shall be in writing, if so required by the presiding officer, or by the meeting.

4th. Every person speaking shall address the chair, standing and uncovered.

5th. No vote fixing the period for closing a ballot shall be reconsidered after such ballot shall have commenced; but it may be in order to extend the period without such reconsideration.

6th. Committees shall be nominated by the presiding officer of the meeting, unless otherwise ordered by a vote of two thirds of the voters present; and in nominations at large, no person shall nominate more than one member of such committee.

7th. All motions to lay on the table, to take from the table, to take any article from its regular order, or to change the order of business, shall be decided without debate.

8th. The duties of the presiding officer shall be determined by the code of Rules governing the presiding officer of the House of Representatives of this Commonwealth, so far as they are adapted to the conditions and powers of the Town.

BY-LAWS.

Approved by the Court, Dec. 29, 1857.

COLLECTION OF TAXES.

ART. 1. The assessment of all taxes shall be completed and a list of the same delivered to the Collector on or before the first day of July of each year.

ART. 2. The appointed time for collecting poll-taxes of persons having no other tax, shall be from the 20th to the 31st of July, and all other taxes from the 10th to the 20th of November of each year.

ART. 3. It shall be the duty of the Collector, during each of said periods, to appoint at least eight different times and places in different parts of the town, when and where he will meet the inhabitants and receive their taxes; and he shall, immediately after receiving the tax-list from the assessors, make out the tax-bills, and send the same to each of said inhabitants and each non-resident, as he can find, with a notice thereon of said times and places, and the penalties of non-payment of said taxes; and the Town shall furnish printed blanks for the use of said Collector.

ART. 4. At the expiration of the time appointed for said payment of taxes, the Collector shall issue a summons to all delinquents; and if any taxes remain unpaid more than ten days after the service of said summons, the Collector shall immediately proceed to collect the same, with legal fees therefor.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

No action shall be had at any Town Meeting on the report of any Committee previously chosen, unless the same shall be specially notified in the warrant for calling said meeting.

PASTURING OF CATTLE OR OTHER ANIMALS IN STREETS AND WAYS.

No person shall pasture cattle or other animals in or upon any of the streets or ways in the Town of Newton, either with or without a keeper, under the penalty of five dollars for each and every such offence; and it shall be the duty of the Selectmen to prosecute every violation of this By-Law; and all fines or penalties collected for such offences, shall be paid to the Treasurer for the use of the Town.

CONCERNING

Truant Children and Absentees from School.

Adopted March 2, 1863.

SECT. 1. The Town of Newton hereby adopts the provisions of the forty-second chapter of the General Statutes of this Commonwealth, so far as applicable to Truant Children and Absentees from school, and all the provisions of the two hundred and seventh Chapter of the Acts of 1862, and the several Acts in addition thereto, or in amendment thereof.

SECT. 2. Any person convicted of any offence described in said Acts, or either of them, shall be punished by fine not exceeding twenty dollars, or by confinement in any institution of instruction, house of reformation, or suitable situation, which shall be provided for the purpose, for a term not exceeding one year.

SECT. 3. The Selectmen of the Town shall provide a suitable lock-up, or institution of instruction, or house of reformation, or some other suitable place in the Poor-house belonging to the Town, or some other place in the Town aforesaid, or in the County of Middlesex, which shall be assigned and used for the confinement of persons convicted and sentenced to confinement under said Acts.

SECT. 4. Three Truant Officers shall be annually chosen in the Town of Newton, at its Annual Meeting in March, to serve one year, whose duty it shall be to make complaints of all persons who have violated any provisions of the Acts aforesaid, or either of them.

SECT. 5. The Selectmen of the Town shall fix the amount of compensation of said Truant Officers, for their services, as they shall think just, and the sum shall be paid from the Treasury of the Town.

SECT. 6. It shall be the duty of the School-Committee, and of the Teachers of the Public Schools in said Town, to report the name of every person or persons violating any or either of said Acts, to the Truant Officers of the Town, that they may be complained of therefor.

To the foregoing By-Laws, the following was appended; viz., —

SUPERIOR COURT, SUFFOLK, SS. January Term, 1863. I approve the By-Laws of the Town of Newton, relative to Truant Children and Absentees from School, hereto annexed.

THOMAS RUSSELL,
Justice of Superior Court.

MARCH 2d, 1863.

BY-LAWS OF NEWTON.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

MIDDLESEX, SS.

At the Superior Court, begun and holden at Cambridge, within and for said County, on the second Monday of December, being the thirteenth day of said month, Anno Domini, 1869,

The following By-laws adopted by the inhabitants of the town of Newton, in said County, at a legal town meeting, held on the second day of November, A. D., 1869, were presented to the Court by Marshall S. Rice, Esq., Clerk of said town, and being seen and examined by the Court, and found conformable to the Statutes of this Commonwealth, are, on this twenty-seventh day of December, A. D., 1869, approved by the Court, to wit:—

SECTION 1.—No person shall play at ball or throw balls or stones, or snow-balls, within any of the streets or public places in said town of Newton.

SEC. 2.—No owner, or person having for the time the care and use of any horse, shall ride, drive, or permit the same to go at a faster rate than eight miles an hour, in any street, way, or public place in said town.

SEC. 3.—No person shall drive, wheel, or draw any coach, cart, handcart, handbarrow, or other carriage of burden or pleasure (except children's hand-carriages drawn by hand), or drive, or permit any horse, neat cattle, swine, or sheep under his care, to go or stand upon any sidewalk in the town.

SEC. 4.—Three or more persons shall not stand in a group, or near to each other, on any sidewalk, in such a manner as to obstruct a free passage for foot passengers, for a longer time than twenty minutes at any time, nor more than five minutes after a request to move on, made by any Police Officer or Constable.

SEC. 5.—No person shall fire or discharge any gun, fowling-piece, or firearm, or make any bonfire or other fire in any street or public place in said town.

SEC. 6.—Any person violating any of the provisions of these By-laws shall be liable to a penalty of not less than two, nor more than twenty dollars for each offence.

After the above By-laws had been read to the meeting, they Voted, that we adopt said By-laws as By-laws of Newton.

Voted, that the Selectmen present said By-laws to the Superior Court for approval.

A true copy,

Attest:

MARSHALL S. RICE,

Town Clerk of Newton.

In testimony that the foregoing is a true copy of record, I hereto set my hand and affix the seal of said Court, this eighteenth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy.

Attest:

JOHN JAMES SAWYER,

Assistant Clerk.

REPORT.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEWTON:—

THE School Committee of Newton have attended to their duties for the past year, and herewith submit their report.

The general condition of the schools has been prosperous, the degree of progress good, the animation of the teachers, the spirit and attention of the pupils, and the co-operation of parents, marked and deserving of praise. The reports of the sub-committees upon the various grades state in detail the condition and progress of the schools.

Within the year, the last of the series of costly buildings erected by the town for school purposes, the house at the Upper Falls, has been finished and occupied; and the largest of the series, the house at Newton Centre, has been consumed by fire. For the past few years the town has been lavish in many expenditures on behalf of the schools. A series of buildings has been erected throughout the town, which, at least for size, are hardly equalled elsewhere; the appliances and means of education have been multiplied; and in the direction of these efforts, no pains have been spared on behalf of our youth.

The subject of the best mode of educating the young must always occupy the best thoughts of an intelligent community. We are never content with such an education for our children as we ourselves have received, and we spare no pains to give the best facilities for improvement to those whom we love most, and who we wish should shun the errors into which we have fallen. Our very anxiety to provide the best things for them may tend to an injudicious accumulation of the means of knowledge ; or parents, where every means are provided, may become less careful of the mental growth of their children, and cease personal effort and personal watchfulness in proportion as good teachers, and fine school-houses, and improved books are multiplied. As improvements in these auxiliaries of education are constantly introduced, it may be well to remember that they can never take the place of a proper school system, and of constant fidelity on the part of the parent and teacher in the matter of the child's mental growth.

The school system of Newton, as it now stands, is the result of that change in the Massachusetts school policy by which graded were substituted for district schools. If it has its excellencies, — and if its excellencies preponderate over its defects, as an earnest examination will show that they do, — this renders its defects less likely to be observed, and ought to make us more careful to guard against them. In our large cities the schools are graded with much greater exactness than they are or can be with us. The effort is to unify. To a large extent, the excessive gradation compels the scholars to assume a mental uniform. The exclusive attention of scholars of the same grade is directed to an exact line of study, and the result is great proficiency. The old district schools, on the contrary, were, as nearly as well could be, the opposites of this. In them all classes of minds, all grades of proficiency, and quite diverse courses of study came together. Schools like ours in this town seek to reject the injurious tendencies of the former, and the loose methods of the latter, system, and to combine the excellencies of both. We grade our schools that those pursuing the same studies may receive common instruction, the stimulus of co-operation, and the best facilities ; but we do not intend to carry it to such a point that the method of education shall become like a mechanical process, and our children, like coin at the mint, the subjects of an unvarying impress. We propose the development of the mind by a course of regular, systematic, thorough study. Still, it is the development of the mind which we seek.

However correct our theory may be, it cannot produce the best results, unless the teacher in his place, and the parent in his, perform their parts and fulfil their duties in the best manner. How much is comprehended in what a teacher may be and do, — in what he may do; in the spirit and way in which he may perform his duties ; in the spirit he maintains in the school-room ; in his insisting that a scholar shall understand the subject, as well as the formula of the book ; in his pressing the child hard enough to draw out all his faculties, and yet not so hard as to impair his health, his youthfulness, or his vigor ; not so hard as to secure present attainments at the expense of future promise, and yet hard enough to secure in time the best promises of the future, — in what he may be ; if he has resisted the natural temptation to grow careless and monotonous in his work : if his mind is on the alert for new points suggested by the scholars, and he is ready to elucidate them, and bring them out clearly and sharply, well knowing that to solve a point suggested by the scholar is worth much more to him than presenting a point himself; if he is not content with present attainments, but seeks to do better and more every week and day; if his bearing and manner shall command respect, and his justice be such that the strong sense of justice in children shall recognize its impartiality. If these qualities combine, we have the model teacher.

And how much more, even, than what a teacher alone can do, can a parent do, if he realizes it, to enforce the lessons of the day. An illustration of the lesson, drawn from every-day life, an example drawn from outside of the book; familiar conversation upon the reason of the thing learned at school, which the scholar did not quite understand, or the teacher, pressed by other cares, could not explain fully, or, if explained and understood, has since gone out of the pupil's mind, or which he was too timid to state his difficulties about to his teacher as freely as to his parent,—work like this will tell in the future of a child; and the spirit and animation which a true parent can infuse into a child is unlike any other influence, and better than any other influence, which can come over him, and better and beyond all instruction.

The course of study in the Newton schools, including the preparation for, and course in the High School, is not the best which could be chosen, if the intention were alone to prepare for one or another of several positions in life, or courses of after-study. Accordingly, we hear complaints that too great knowledge of the English branches is required in order to enter the High School, on the part of some, who wish their children to fit rapidly for college; and complaints that so much attention is given to the languages at the High School, on the part of others, who desire their children to obtain an education which shall fit them for business; and in the lower grades, the course of study might also be changed, if special ends were in view. But the common schools are for the education of those who will enter all the avocations of life, and the proper course of study in them is one which advances each class of scholars as much as is possible consistently with retarding the others as little as possible. Such a course we believe that adopted in our town to be. And so far as the High School is concerned, until the class of scholars desiring to enter college shall greatly increase, it is not practicable to separate them, as may well be done in Boston, from those pursuing other studies of an advanced nature.

It appears by the report of the Secretary of the Board of Education, that for the school year 1868-69 the town stood the seventh in the State, instead of the fourth, as the previous year, in respect of the amount appropriated for school purposes for each child between five and fifteen years of age, — the amount being $19 19 for each child. In the same year, the town appropriated .00449 of the valuation for school purposes, and in this respect stood the twenty-seventh in the State.

Statistics relative to the schools for the present year will be found at the end of this report.

A series of teachers' meetings for the discussion of topics of joint interest, and the interchange of views, has been established within the year, and by the good attendance and spirit manifested, excellent results are hoped. The villages are wide apart, and the two lines of railroad keep one side too distinct from the other. All that can be done to bring the teachers together, and to inspire a common purpose, promotes the cause in which they labor.

There is one duty on the part of teachers upon which the Committee must insist: that the school registers shall be properly kept, and at the end of the term properly completed, and promptly returned to the local committee. It can hardly be needful to repeat here for the benefit of teachers the statutes of the Commonwealth in this behalf, printed upon the first page of the register, or the directions for use carefully given therein,—and yet it is impossible to make a correct statistical table from the registers for the past year, even after a careful revision; and in many instances, both in keeping the register in term time, and more especially in making the summary at the close of the year, the requirements have been in no sense complied with.

The Building Committee, consisting of the Board of Selectmen and two members of the School Board, having in charge the erection of a new house at Newton Centre to take the place of the one destroyed by fire, have adopted plans, and the building is under contract. The contract provides for the completion of the building, ready for occupancy, by the first day of September next; it is with a builder of established reputation, and the Town may reasonably expect that the schools will commence the fall term of the present year in the new building.

The matter of school accommodations at the North Village was referred at the last town meeting to the School Committee, and having investigated the subject, this Board report that one hundred and fifteen pupils are registered in that place. The numbers have increased, and are increasing, rapidly, and the present building is inadequate to the wants of the neighborhood. We accordingly recommend the enlargement of the building, by the addition of two rooms.

The Committee, upon consideration, have changed the school year, so that after the present year it shall begin at the end of the long summer vacation and close at the end of the spring term. The occurrence and length of the vacations will be established hereafter, a sub-committee having the matter in charge. Accordingly the present school year will cover the period of about eighteen months, instead of twelve. Except in the case, perhaps, of a few, scholars of an advanced age desiring to enter the High School, no inconvenience will be felt by the extension of the present year, if proper attention is paid to grading and promotion, while the advantages of the change, as to the beginning and end of the school year, are believed to be very great. The course of study has been somewhat revised and enlarged.

ROBERT R. BISHOP, Secretary,

For the Committee.

HIGH SCHOOL.

THE close of the first decade of the existence of this school suggests a brief review of its history. It was established with much want of agreement upon its expediency, and the Committee of that day speak of it as "an experiment, which they will continue to watch anxiously yet hopefully, leaving the results to speak for themselves." It commenced with seventy-five pupils, all of whom were over fifteen years of age, under the instruction of two teachers, one of whom has ever since continued to add a peculiar value to the privileges of the school. It at once engaged the interest and pride of the community, and through its whole career has justified its reputation as a school furnished with all the means and appliances of the highest English and classical education recognized in our common-school system. During this time the school building, supposed to provide amply for the wants of the far future, has been greatly enlarged. The force of teachers has been doubled, and the pupils now number nearly one hundred and fifty. The course of study has been much amplified, and the facilities now afforded in this institution for a thorough education we believe to be unexcelled by any similar school in the State.

We are happy to be able to report that the present condition of the school is most satisfactory. We are constrained to say that never before have we been so strongly impressed by the high character of the school in every aspect. The quality of instruction is apparent in an unusual degree of refinement and culture among the pupils, which is a rare direct effect of common-school instruction, and attests almost necessarily a general excellence. Encouraged by the enlarged facilities for their work, and stimulated by the large increase of pupils, the teachers have seemed to bend their energies to their work during the year with unusual earnestness, and almost, we regret to say, to physical exhaustion. The extension of the last vacation to two weeks was suggested by this circumstance.

A very large class from the Grammar schools presented themselves for admission to the High school at the next term. We are sorry to say that the average proficiency of the class, so far as determined by the examination, was below that of previous years, and the Committee felt obliged to extend unusual and generous, although impartial, favor to some other considerations in the approval of applicants. When a pupil has completed the term provided in the Grammar school, it is, of course, to be greatly desired that he should pass with his class into the High school. But it is useless to himself and harmful to the school to enter unless fairly qualified. We believe that it is the almost uniform judgment of educators that a written examination upon printed questions is the best and generally a conclusive test of proficiency, especially when, as with us, such examinations are freely practised in the Grammar schools; and when it is apparent that the failure is the result of a lack of proficiency, the Committee would be doing a wrong to the school to admit the pupil.

We beg to suggest in this connection that the teachers of the different grades of schools should carefully acquaint themselves with the capacity of the pupils in the lower classes, with a view of promoting those whose age, ambition, or quickness to learn, may warrant it. We are satisfied that many pupils enter the High school indifferently prepared, who by thus gaining a year in the lower classes, and spending an additional year in the higher classes, of the Grammar school, would have secured a thorough preparation. We would not, however, encourage the application of very young scholars for admission to the High School. The intellectual studies of this school demand for their comprehension or profitable pursuit a maturity of mind which comes only with years.

The exercises of the graduating class were attended by not less than six hundred visitors, for whom accommodations were made by the removal of the desks. The fifteen young ladies and gentlemen of the class were warmly and deservedly praised for the uniform excellence of their exercises. In them, those results for which the early and ever remembered friend and guardian of the school watched "anxiously, yet hopefully" were most conspicuously manifested.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

YOUR Committee have made their regular quarterly visits to the several schools belonging to this department, and have carefully observed their conditions, as well as the methods employed by the several teachers, and we gladly bear testimony to their general excellence.

During the year, two of our masters, in Districts Nos. 5 and 6, have resigned, to accept of situations in the neighboring city ; and it is no less a pleasure than a duty to say that both Mr. Waterman, from No. 5, and Mr. Haskell, from No. 6, during the several years spent in our service proved themselves teachers of the first class. All who observed them in the school-room could but notice their singular devotion, and the marked success attending their teaching.

The vacancy in No. 5, was filled by the appointment of Levi F. Warren, of Salem, a teacher of established reputation, won by many years' service as Grammar master in that city ; and in Dist. No. 6 by the appointment of J. S. Hayes, of Manchester, N. H., of like experience and reputation. The wisdom shown in these appointments was made apparent during our recent examinations, for the Committee were unable to see any falling away from the usual high standing of these schools ; we shall expect much more, when they shall have had time to fully establish themselves, and to develop their methods. Several of our long-tried and faithful female teachers, too, have left us, or will at the close of the year ; among whom we would name Ellen E. Miles of No. 5, Mrs. Haskell of No. 6, Miss Claflin, of No. 7, and Miss Harbach, of No. 2, all teachers of a high order. They merit and receive our grateful thanks and best wishes for future usefulness.

To a careful observer, it must be apparent at once that the community must mainly rely upon the Grammar schools for the education of the masses. They are emphatically the schools for the people ; How few, of the two thousand children now in our schools, will ever apply, even, to enter our excellent High School ? certainly but a small proportion ; hence the imperative nature of the call to enlarge and broaden the facilities of these schools, where so many must take their graduation, and to which so many must look as their Alma Mater. We would enlarge their curriculum of study from time to time, by introducing such branches as will be of use to them in the practical duties of life : not attempting so much to turn out scholars, as to make good citizens ; not machines for money-making, but noble sons and daughters. “ A man’s speech is a measure of his culture ; a graceful utterance the first-born of the arts.” Hence, we would recommend that special attention be given to the study of Language, not only that they may readily comprehend the best expressed thought of scholarly men, but that they may gain facility in the expression of their own. By language, we do not mean technically Grammar, for we are not sure that there is any necessary connection between the study of Grammar and correct thoughts and expression, no more than between the rules of Arithmetic and correct arithmetical expression, or the solution of problems.

The power of expression, it seems to us, can only be gained by frequent and long-continued exercise in writing, — not set compositions merely, though they are valuable, but by abstracts of the various studies, written demonstration of problems, business letters, correspondence, etc. ; for though reading may make the full man, writing alone maketh one exact. Our recent examination for the High School has given intensity to this thought, for we observed a great want of power of expression in the written exercises of the pupils, — so that we were forced to acknowledge that language may be a vehicle for concealing thought, if not of expressing something entirely unlike what was intended. We earnestly commend this subject to our teachers, and assure them that, in future examinations, more reliance will probably be placed upon the evidences of growth and development, than upon mere technicalities, which too often measure the memory alone.

Another suggestion which your Committee would make regarding the teaching of Arithmetic, is this: that more effort be made to take the pupils away from the text-book, — or rather that they accustom them to perform examples drawn from common or real transactions, and expressed in the usual language of business. We found classes, as a whole, thoroughly and accurately taught, ready to solve problems with alacrity when taken from the book, that were at once thrown off their guard when examples were given them involving gold and currency transactions.

What we would attempt would be, to so fill the minds of the pupils with a knowledge of the principles of arithmetic and the science of numbers, that they would become "ready reckoners" — independent thinkers — a rule unto themselves sufficient for every emergency.

More attention, we think, has been given of late to reading and spelling, so that a marked improvement was noticed in many of the schools. Also in the department of penmanship most excellent specimens were exhibited in most of the schools. In this art, we are persuaded much more depends upon the teacher than upon the system; for we find with the same system very different results. The best teachers command the highest success.

We do not deem it necessary to speak of the schools individually, yet it is but simple justice to say of them, as a whole, that they never have given surer evidence of improvement than during the last year. A varying success will attend any school however, for pupils are not machines, and classes are not all from the same mould. Our teachers are alive to the magnitude of their work, and are aiming high ; and though somewhat hampered by the inherent evils of the graded system, they are ever ready, — yes, anxious, to broaden and deepen the channels of their usefulness. By their faithfulness they have deserved success, and by their ability they have secured it. We renewedly commend them to the hearty, cheerful, intelligent co-operation of the citizens of Newton.

GEORGE E. ALLEN,
For the Sub-Committee.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOLS.

PROBABLY in none of our schools are the teachers harder worked than in this grade. The discouragements are greater, the material harder, there is more irregularity, there is less variety in the work, and the classes are generally larger than in our Grammar schools. The routine of school duties is exceedingly wearing on our Intermediate teachers. Over-work has in several instances been followed by long weeks of sickness. There is much casting of the bread upon the waters which returns not after many days, — at least to the knowledge of the teacher. Still, we must all remember that seeds will sprout under favorable circumstances, after having lain dormant many-years. In the same way much of our teaching will bear its fruits after many years have passed, and the precepts imparted to the pupil have lain dormant and forgotten in the chambers of the mind till accident, perhaps, shall call them to light. In this view of the case, teachers may take heart and labor on, waiting for time to develop what they failed to do.

The Committee, in their various visits to the Intermediate schools, have found the teachers working with that earnestness and zeal which characterizes our whole corps. Without a single exception, we have found these schools in excellent order, and much improved. The suggestions which were made in our last annual report, and those made from time to time on our quarterly visits, have been acted upon with good results.

In some cases more general exercises, oral instruction on some interesting topic at stated times in the day, would relieve the tedium of the school-room. In some schools, teachers have given oral lessons in Botany during the spring and summer months, instructing the children in drawing the various parts of plants, the different shapes of leaves, etc., etc.

If pupils are inclined to be tardy, this might be an opening exercise, with the tardy ones locked out.

We have had little to criticize the past year upon the manner of teaching Arithmetic. The classes have been well instructed in both mental and written. Perhaps more written arithmetic might be thrown in incidentally in the younger classes in some schools.

We have been pleased to notice beautiful maps drawn upon the boards in most of the schools, showing a great degree of proficiency in that interesting and useful part of the study of geography.

Those teachers are the most successful who teach the subject rather than the book. If teachers depend upon a verbatim recitation, and the pupils are depending upon the promptings of the teacher to get through, the class will very soon lose its interest in the study. A large part of the time spent in the recitation should be used in ascertaining what the pupils know of the subject, instead of merely repeating the text. Let the teacher shut the book, and, with the subject in her head and heart, infuse it into the minds of the pupils. If the teacher loves the subject, the pupils will do the same.

Reading and spelling are not yet up to our standard in most schools. Young pupils, to read well, should be familiar with the piece they are to read; not merely with the words, which may be repeated from memory, but with the ideas. When this is the case, the voice assumes a confident tone and loses the hesitancy which always accompanies a lack of knowledge. Of what use is it to them to read a sentence they do not understand! The spelling-book would answer the same purpose. In regard to Spelling, our teachers have endeavored to carry the classes further than formerly has been done, and with some degree of success. But we find a great difference in the correctness and promptness with which pupils spell, in different schools.

Generally, we can say that those teachers succeed the best who have their heart in their work, who love children, and who feel that they are working, not for dollars and cents merely, but for the cause of education and for the welfare of those who are intrusted to their care.

HORATIO F. ALLEN,

For the Committee on Intermediate Schools.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

THE Committee have attended to the duties assigned them, and are glad to be able to report the Primary schools, as a whole, in a very prosperous condition. A change of teachers in several districts has been a necessity. This, as a general thing, is deleterious to the interests and progress of the schools, but having been fortunate in the selection of successors, they have suffered little detriment.

In District No. 1, we had expected that the sickness, which prevented the opening of the schools at the beginning of the year, for three weeks, and the employment of a substitute for the Primary teacher for the last six months, together with the unfortunate changes in location necessitated by the burning of the school-house, would be especially disastrous to the Primary department. But we are happy to say that earnest efforts on the part of all interested to overcome the influence of these things has been, in a great measure successful, and our last examination was very satisfactory.

We expect the eighteen schools of this department will open the coming year with permanent and faithful teachers, each at her post of duty.

The number of pupils connected with these schools the past year has been equal to, and the average attendance, we think, will compare favorably with, that of former years. Still, we can but deplore that necessity which compels many of the children to be very irregular in their attendance. A large number of the pupils must obtain what education they have by or before completing the Grammar course, and it is of very great importance that they be able to make the most of the few years allotted them for study. We trust parents will bear this matter in mind, and in no instance retain a child from school when it is consistent for him to be present.

In a town so large as Newton, and differing so widely in the character of its people, there is necessarily much difference in the general appearance and proficiency, even in the schools of the same grade. The causes for this are numerous: many of them are entirely local, while some are attributable to the difference in teachers. All may be equally faithful in duty and indefatigable in effort, but some of them, for want of proper experience in teaching, thorough acquaintance with their pupils and patrons, and natural adaptation to their peculiar work, may not be able to show all that improvement in their schools which their faithful labors would seem to demand. It is no child's play to be a successful teacher of a Primary school.

Some one has well said: "It requires the greatest wisdom to teach the profoundest ignorance." No opinion is more erroneous than that held by some, that almost any one will do as a teacher for little children. Thorough intellectual attainments, though indispensable, do not adequately qualify one for this important position. There is probably no part of the teacher's work more difficult than that of rightly training and educating children in the earliest years of their school experience. Consequently it requires in the teacher accurate scholarship, good general culture, a natural fitness for the position, and an enthusiastic love for children, coupled with the purest morals, in order that the wants of the little ones may be properly met, that they may be trained in body, mind, and heart, and receive that fostering care, for the want of which so many are suffering in the natural relations of life, and be able to form those habits of physical, social, intellectual, and moral character which shall give assurance, for the future, of high attainments in all that is good and true. The office of a Primary school teacher, therefore, is an important one to fill, and comparatively few seem to be designed by nature and fitted by training for it. For all, then, who undertake the work, and, conscious of their own inadequacy, strive to discharge faithfully every obligation, we bespeak the forbearance, sympathy, encouragement, and cordial co-operation of the parents and friends of education.

While the regime of the Primary school-room has been much improved within the last few years, it is still far from being perfect. When we have books thoroughly adapted to the youngest minds, and rooms suitably arranged and furnished for the comfort of the child and the development of his entire nature, there is even then a large margin left for the exercise of the teacher's good sense, sound judgment, and genuine tact, in seeing that every pupil is constantly engaged, interested, and happy; and no true teacher will allow the exercises of her room to become monotonous, or wanting in enthusiasm, or content herself with completing any dull round of duty. Singing, gymnastic exercises, building with blocks, the putting together of dissected pictures and maps, black-board drawing, drawing from cards, printing and writing upon slates, object-lessons by the teacher, with occasionally the reading of a well-selected story, followed with a few judicious comments, — these, and such as these, are among the exercises, already employed by many, that will relieve the school-room of much of its tediousness for the little ones, and cultivate in them a love for the pursuit of knowledge.

We are glad to see the walls of many of the schoolrooms embellished with paintings, and the windows well filled and shaded with house plants, all of which are gratuitously furnished by the teachers and pupils. There is little danger that æsthetic culture will be begun too young, and the love of the beautiful is very properly united with the love and knowledge of the good and true. Besides, the highway of culture is sufficiently rugged and disciplinary, when we have strewn it with flowers and thrown around it every possible charm.

The proficiency made by the pupils in their studies, we should judge, would compare favorably with that of former years. Most of the scholars in the advanced classes are very familiar with the four tables in Arithmetic, and some of them readily apply the principles to quite difficult examples. Absolute perfection in the tables can come only by constant and continued application. Still, pupils should be made as familiar and ready as possible with them in the Primary schools, that they may be prepared for their rapid application as they advance to higher grades. Great care should also be taken that the young child does not form erroneous habits in reading, which will need to be corrected in the future. He should not only be required to read accurately, but he should also be taught pronunciation, modulation of voice, inflection, and emphasis sufficiently to render his reading natural and expressive.

In conclusion we would make honorable mention of those who have occupied our places before us, by whose fidelity and labors of love our schools have been brought to occupy so high a position. And because of their noble efforts, our tasks have been comparatively light and our duties exceedingly pleasant. But, notwithstanding that the schools of Newton are so justly noted, still, no pains should be spared to render them yet more successful, and carry them forward to a higher degree of usefulness.

MUSIC.

MR. CHARLES E. WHITING has now completed his first year as teacher of Music, and the result has been such as to assure the Committee that we have in him an accomplished and successful teacher, one who not only understands his subject, but who is "apt to teach." All are not aware, perhaps, of the extent and thoroughness of the instruction given in this department, and many, we are sure, consider it more in the light of a recreation than one of the regular branches in which thorough drill upon the rudiments is required; yet such it is, and no pupil should pass through the Grammar school and not be able to read at sight any ordinary piece of music; certainly the fault will not be in the teaching if it is so. A regular and systematic drill is given in each of the three departments of musical science, Rhythm, Melodics, and Dynamics. In the first, treating of the staff, the letters upon it, the clef, division into measures by bars, different kinds of notes, marking time, etc., the pupils not only required to know these characters and their uses, but to apply his knowledge in connection with Melodics, the basis of which is the scale. On this the pupil is exercised until he can not only sing with the voice, but with the understanding as well. In the higher department of giving expression to the sentiment, more attention is given in the upper classes and in the High school; the results of which all who attended the exhibition of the High school must have seen. It seemed to us highly creditable to teacher and pupils.

We would also bear our cheerful testimony to the successful efforts of our Primary teachers in developing the musical talents of the little ones, who come not under the instruction of our Music teacher. It ever gives us unalloyed pleasure to listen to the songs of childhood, coming as they do from lips yet unstained by profanity, and other forms of evil speaking. In these schools, singing is a pastime, a delight; it serves to beguile many an hour otherwise tiresome to these restless ones, whose minds, like spring-buds, are just opening to receive the genial warmth that ever comes from the true teacher. Those who have not enjoyed the sparkling, joyous songs of our Primary schools have a rich treat in store.

The liberality of the Town in providing a teacher in Music, and especially in furnishing pianos for our schools, is highly appreciated by teachers and pupils. No appropriation has been more faithfully used, or has gladdened so many hearts.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

Erected July 23, 1864.

THE SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

At a town-meeting of the inhabitants of Newton, held on the seventh day of August, A.D. 1863, a committee was chosen with authority to erect a monument to the soldiers of Newton who had fallen in the war of the Rebellion. •

In order that all might share in this grateful tribute, a donation of one dollar was solicited from each inhabitant; and nearly twelve hundred dollars were received from this source. More than eleven hundred children of the public schools contributed each one dime; and the remainder necessary to construct the monument, to grade and surround the lot with a suitable curb-stone, together with the erection of an appropriate entablature, has been cheerfully contributed by the generous friends of the soldiers in the town.

The monument itself, with the entablature, cost $3,975 50

The curb-stone and posts 1,245 00

The work has been completed at an expense of $5,220 50

It stands in the cemetery, upon a lot of land given by the town. The trustees of the cemetery corporation are to keep the grounds in good order and condition. The monument is an octagonal shaft of Quincy granite, resting upon a die and plinths of the same material, and is twenty-eight feet in height. Upon the front of the die are inscribed the words, "In Memoriam Perpetuam." Near the monument is the entablature, on which is carved the motto, "Pro patria mortui sunt," bearing the names of fifty-seven brave men of Newton, who offered up their lives in the cause of freedom and the Union.

In the erection of this monument, our patriotic citizens have gracefully performed a grateful public duty; and the work will stand as a perpetual honor to the brave heroes who have fallen, and to the noble spirit of our people.

SELECTMEN'S REPORT.

IN compliance with a vote of the town, the selectmen present the following estimates of the expenses of the town for the ensuing year, which is based upon the presumption that economy will be practised in all departments of our municipal affairs; and it is hoped that no outlays will be made which shall increase our already large town debt. It is also hoped that our legislature will be careful not to launch out upon any new projects which shall increase the State debt, or add to the already onerous burthen of local taxation. The amount assessed upon the people for State expenses is still quite large, and ought to be speedily reduced. In the time of war, when the foundation of the State and town debts was laid, taxes were borne with comparative ease by all classes of our citizens. Speculation was rampant, and the profits of business were large; wages were high; values were tending up; currency was plenty; and the amount of fictitious wealth swelled the channels of trade, overflowing into every man's pocket. But the process of contraction has dissipated much of this transient wealth. Business is depressed; manufacturing stocks, merchandise, and property of almost every kind, have decreased in value, thus placing the tax-paying masses in a very different position; and every thing which can be done to reduce our town debt, and rate of taxation, consistent with our future growth, out to be by all our citizens.

INTEREST.

The amount required for interest is estimated at twenty-one thousand dollars, which is to cover the interest on our debt, and on temporary loans that will be wanted. It is very gratifying to be able to say, that notwithstanding the excess of some of our appropriations, and the many things which have been done for which no appropriation was made, the debt of the town has been reduced $10,314.84, as the following statement will show:—

It will be seen that we make a liberal estimate for the reduction of the town debt, as well as for all other purposes; and we can see no reason why this cannot be done without increasing our rate of taxation beyond that of last year.

The value of taxable property of the town in 1870 was, —

SCHOOLS.

The New-England system of public schools has for many years furnished a fruitful theme for eulogistic phrases of orators and writers. To take every child, of whatever class, condition, or color, and to instil in his or her yielding mind correct principles, sound morality, and the rudiments of useful knowledge, is, indeed, a grand and noble work; and we know of no one who would complain of any reasonable, or even liberal taxation for this purpose. The branches of learning for which cities and towns are compelled by law to provide are growing more and more numerous. By a recent act of the legislature, towns containing ten thousand inhabitants are required that not merely the pupils in the public schools be taught drawing, but that free instruction shall be given in industrial or mechanical drawing to all persons who may desire to learn, over fifteen years of age, under the direction of the school committee. It is proposed by the committee to establish evening schools for this purpose at Newton Corner and Upper Falls. This is all right; although by this process of free instruction the expenses of our schools will be considerably increased. The expenditure for schools and incidentals for schools last year was $68,044.27, a small excess of the appropriation. The amount asked for this year is sixty-seven thousand dollars for these two items; which we recommend be granted. The amount paid for educational purposes the past year is $117,252.98. The amount paid for teachers' salaries, fuel, and care of school-buildings, from January, 1866, to January, 1871, is $224,881.00. The total amount paid for educational purposes the five years ending January, 1871, is $480,765.85. The value of school-property owned by the town is $327,600.00.

An article will be found in the warrant for the March meeting, in regard to allowing the school committee to appoint a superintendent of our schools. It may not be our province to express our opinion upon this subject; still there cannot be but little doubt that the true policy of school supervision is involved in the appointment of some competent person as a superintendent, who shall devote himself exclusively to the careful oversight of all our schools, under the direction of the school committee. The town has an efficient school committee; and our schools will compare favorably with any others in the State. The teachers are faithful, competent, and worthy of the respect and support of all our citizens.

The report of the school committee will be published with this Report, and should be our guide in relation to all matters pertaining to this department.

HIGHWAYS, CULVERTS, BRIDGES, AND RAILINGS.

The sum appropriated for this purpose last year was $36,000. The sum expended was $35,935.62. The amount appropriated for the purchase of gravel land was five thousand dollars. The amount expended, less the amount received from the sale of land at Newton Centre, was $4,897.20, leaving an unexpended balance of the two appropriations of $167.18. We have expended the past year, —

For new streets,	$2,784 75
“ widening streets,	3,681 69
“ drainage on streets,	5,615 35
“ gravel land,	4,897 20
“ removing snow,	360 00
“ teams,	1,700 00
“ land damage,	932 00
“ ordinary repairs,	20,861 83
	$40,832 82

The amount expended for highway purposes the past six years, ending Feb. 1, 1871, is as follows: —

For ordinary repairs,	$78,406 83
“ drainage,	14,953 57
“ bridges,	1,365 50
“ new streets, and widening streets,	23,444 53
“ gravel land,	8,090 08
“ stone-crusher,	2,700 00
“ teams,	9,973 62
“ land damages,	932 00
	$139,866 13

The amount expended upon the highway and culverts in the several villages the past year is as follows: —

At Newton Corner,	$7,505 00
“ “ Centre,	5,147 00
“ Upper Falls,	2,120 00
“ Lower Falls,	1,311 00
“ Oak Hill,	1,000 00
“ Auburndale,	1,482 00
“ Newtonville,	1,469 00
“ West Newton,	6,325 00

We name these amounts to show precisely how much money has been expended in each village, that all may see that they have not been neglected. It is true, we pay no regard to location as to the amount expended in this or that section of the town, but make the repairs wherever they are most needed, and build the streets wherever the town accepts their laying out, and put in the culverts where they are needed, as fast as we can with the means at our command. The past year being unusually dry, and consequently unfavorable for working upon the highways, we have availed ourselves of the opportunity to put in several much needed culverts; some of them being very large. Those at Cheese Cake Brook are arched eight feet in the clear; and the whole one thousand twenty-eight feet of stone culverts which have been put in the various parts of the town are large and substantial, and probably will last during the lives of the present generation, if not disturbed. We have also put in two thousand six hundred sixty-seven feet of drain-pipe fifteen and eighteen inches in the clear, and paved one thousand one hundred feet of surface-drains. We have run the stone-crusher all we could without materially interfering with the other work, as it takes quite a force to operate it to advantage. Tremont Street has been graded with crushed stones, and several other streets in the vicinity of the crusher; using several thousand loads of the crushed stones. We have been more particular than formerly in giving a detailed statement, so far as we can in this Report, as some of our people seem to be desirous that a more rapid progress should be made, or that some other system should be adopted for the repairing of our highways. With regard to the best method of repairing roads, there are as many plans suggested as there are writers on the subject; and what is thought best for some localities is entirely unfit for other localities. That our roads may be made wider, more level, and better, with a prodigal expenditure of money, no one will presume to doubt; but that our roads are keeping fully up to our increasing wealth and population is universally conceded by all outside the town.

We venture to predict that no town in the State can show so many miles of good roads as can be found here. The town now owns twelve horses, and has all the implements for road-making, and snow-ploughs for clearing sidewalks and streets, besides a superintendent who has had four years of practical experience in road-repairing, and, of course, is better qualified now than a new man would probably be. We think the fault is not in the system: it may be in the parties which control it. We therefore recommend the continuance of the system until a better one can be found, and thirty-six thousand dollars appropriation for highway purposes. As this system embraces new roads, as well as the repairs of existing roads, this amount may be needed. The town has already ordered the widening of Franklin Street, and may accept the laying-out of other new streets which will be reported. Greenwood Street needs important repairs, which should be done early in the season.

LIGHTING STREETS.

We recommend the same sum as last year for this purpose, which was eight thousand dollars. It has ceased to be a question of expediency as to the lighting of our streets, and has become one of the general items of expense, — as much so as the repairing of the streets. We recommend the assuming of all the expense and charge of keeping in repair all the posts and lanterns which have been erected, and of erecting all that may be needed hereafter. We do this for the reason that lanterns are frequently broken; and, as they are individual property, the town refuses to repair them, and the people are left in darkness until the party who erected said lanterns chooses to make necessary repairs. Meanwhile the town is paying for the gas the same as though people enjoyed the light, as a contract is made with the Gas Company for so much a post for the year. Complaint is frequently made by the Gas Company, that the lights are burned all night in some of the villages, which, no doubt, is true, as, under the present arrangement, the local selectman has the looking-after them; which he cannot well do, unless he is about home. Another objection to the present arrangement is, that, the town requiring individuals to erect the posts and lanterns at their own expense, there is no uniformity in their erection, as only such persons as feel able do it; and thus we find long distances on our principal streets which are not lighted. Should the town assume the expense, the posts would be erected at proper distances; and an arrangement could be made with the Gas Company to light them.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The expense of this department exceeds the appropriation made last year, which was ten thousand dollars, the actual expense being $10,644.32: this includes the chemical engine at Auburndale, and nine fire-extinguishers, which cost $1,463.00. While we fully appreciate the services of our firemen and engineers, and their efforts to save our property from destruction by fire, yet we are compelled to say that the department is sustained at a greater expense than its present efficiency will justify; and we fully concur with the chief engineer, that the time has arrived when we should begin to substitute steam-engines for the hand engines. It is now two years since the town introduced steam into this department. It was then considered by many as an experiment of doubtful utility ; but, during this time, the steamer has done sufficient service to fully demonstrate the necessity of substituting steam-engines for the hand-engines throughout the town. Already the West Newton division is calling for a steamer : either a hand steamer, or a light one-horse steamer with a single pump, is suggested by some ; probably on account of the cost being less. We find objections to both of these engines. The one will require a large number of men to draw it to a fire ; and the other, with its single pump, might be disabled at the very time its services were most needed. While we would urge the strictest economy in this as well as in other departments, we are of the opinion that a large steamer with double pumps will prove the most economical in the end ; and the cost will not be very much greater. With a steamer at Newton Corner, West Newton, Newton Centre, Upper and Lower Falls, and a chemical engine at Auburn-dale and Newtonville, the town would be well protected. It may be said by some, that we have not water enough for the steamers. That argument will apply equally well, if not better, to the hand machines. If we have but little water, let us apply that speedily, and save the property, instead of sprinkling it on, and letting the buildings be destroyed while we are doing it.

We consider the telegraphic fire-alarm a very important appendage to this department, and hope it will soon be established. When done, it will obviate the necessity of sending for an engine, or of the engines being started out upon any uncertainty as to the place of the fire. We do not make these suggestions expecting their approval this year, but simply that the people may consider them, believing, that, at no very distant day, the town will see the obvious necessity of their adoption.

For particulars as to service and condition of the department, we refer you to the Chief Engineer's Report, which will be found in another part of this book.

ALMSHOUSE EXPENSES, AND POOR OUT OF ALMSHOUSE.

We recommend the sum of four thousand dollars for these two items. Last year, our appropriation for this purpose was four thousand eight hundred dollars; the amount expended was three thousand nine hundred three dollars and eighty-four cents; and we see no reason to look for an increase of expenses at the almshouse, from the fact that we have a much smaller number of inmates than at any former period.

Seven of the inmates have died within the last fourteen months. The united ages of five of them is four hundred and eight years. The other two died of consumption, under twenty years. Thus the present number in the house is fourteen, two of whom are hopelessly insane, and three are seventy years old and upwards.

Since the present warden and his excellent wife have had the charge of the almshouse, which is now twelve years, twenty of the inmates have died; seventeen of them having lived beyond the allotted period of mankind, — three-score years and ten, — the others having died young, with consumption.

Travelling paupers are getting to be quite numerous, and are a great nuisance to towns. Some of them are very filthy, which makes the position of the matron one of great care and responsibility. The whole number taken into the house, and provided with supper, lodging, and breakfast, during the past twelve years, is three thousand two hundred and eighty-six. The number during the past year is four hundred and forty-four. Mr. Ware will remain warden another year, having been engaged by the overseers of the poor.

Poor out of Almshouse. — In a population like ours, composed of persons intelligent and self-respecting, there exists a strong aversion to entering the almshouse to be wholly supported by the town. They ask for a little coal or wood, and a few groceries, and a moderate amount of clothing, to assist them through a cold winter; and, when the brighter days of spring come, they again provide for themselves. There is in the name of "pauper" something to which people having been self-reliant in their better days decidedly object; and, when such persons are driven by the pangs of hunger and cold to seek relief, they ask that it may be furnished to them in their humble places of abode. This feeling is fully appreciated by the overseers of the poor; and they feel it to be a duty which is imperative, as well as humane, to thus provide for those whose bitterest part of poverty is their consciousness of being dependent upon others for support. The amount paid last year for poor out of almshouse was one thousand nine hundred seventy-six dollars and ninety cents. This amount includes the expense of the support of persons in the insane hospitals, the reform schools for boys and girls, the nautical school-ship, and other humane and correctional institutions.

INSURANCE.

The failure of the Home Insurance Company of New Haven, in which the town had property insured to the amount of thirty-two thousand dollars, made it necessary for them to cancel the policies, and for us to get renewals in other offices. The appropriation for insurance last year was seventeen hundred dollars; the amount paid was two thousand six hundred eighty-one dollars and fifty cents. By a careful examination of the policies, which will expire the ensuing year, the amount named in the estimate, fifteen hundred dollars, will be sufficient for this purpose, should no more companies fail in which the town is insured. The loss to the town by the failure is seven hundred dollars. The town now has insurance upon its property to the amount of $261,345.00.

POLICE.

The sum recommended for this purpose is still an advance on that of any previous year, and is made necessary by the appointment of a policeman at the North Village and Newtonville, where we have had considerable trouble the past year, and shall be likely to have, while the State is tinkering the Liquor Law. The police department, forming as it does an important branch of the town government, and requiring additional appropriations annually, should be made more effective. The force should be organized by the appointment of a chief, who shall have the direction of the movements of the force, and who shall be directly responsible to the selectmen, from whom he would receive his orders, for a monthly report of the doings of the whole force. This would enable them to judge more correctly the importance of maintaining a police permanently in this or that place. As the expense of this department is contingent on circumstances, we recommend that the sum of five thousand dollars be appropriated for this purpose, and placed at the disposal of the selectmen.

TOWN HALL.

This building, located at West Newton, affords the people living there privileges of which others cannot so well avail themselves. We are frequently asked to allow the free use of the hall for various purposes; and we have fixed a price for all local lyceums, fairs, festivals, and the like, at a sum only sufficient to pay the expense of heating, lighting, and taking care of, the building. For horticultural and agricultural purposes, the free use of the hall has been allowed. We have rented the hall for various other purposes, such as were proper to be admitted, and have received the sum of $678.50, which has been paid to the town treasurer; and there is now due $127.00.

In accordance with a vote of the town, rooms have been fitted up in the basement of the building for the use of the town officers. One is used by the police officer, one by the sealer of weights and measures, one by the assessors, and another by the selectmen and treasurer. We have furnished these rooms with all that is necessary for the convenience of the several officers, and have procured two large safes for the preservation of the town papers.

We invite our citizens to carefully examine the Auditors' Report, where they will find a clear statement of our liabilities and assets, and a detailed account of all the expenses of the town the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF ENGINEERS

OF THE

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

THE rapid growth of the town shows us the necessity of some change in this department. The fire-apparatus belonging to the town is in good working-order; and the firemen, as a class, know their duty, and deserve much credit for their promptness and zeal. As we progress from year to year, it will soon be found very difficult to keep up an efficient hand-department: there are now but few that like to run for the fun of it; and we shall soon be obliged to exchange muscle for steam. We think it advisable to have two or three more steam fire-engines in town. Perhaps it would not be best to purchase them all at once; but one might be purchased yearly, until we have a full department. We would recommend the purchase of one to be located at West Newton the coming season. We also think it desirable to have a fire-alarm telegraph in town. We think it would make a great saving in the wear of the fire-apparatus, and also save a great deal of running and unnecessary disturbance.

NEWTON, NO. 1. — STEAMER.

Has done excellent service during the year. There is a good company of fifteen men attached; and they deserve much credit for their efficiency and promptness at fires. They turned out to fifteen fires, have worked at six, and were called out to four alarms of fire.

CATARACT, NO. 1.—NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

She is in good condition. Has a company of sixty men. They are prompt and faithful in duty. They have been to nine fires, and turned out to seven alarms.

MONITOR, NO. 2.—AUBURNDALE.

This is a chemical fire-engine. It has an efficient company of fifteen men, including officers. They have been to two brush-fires, and turned out to two alarms.

The engine is in good working-order.

TRITON, NO. 3.—WEST NEWTON.

Has a full company. Is in good working condition, and has done good service the past year. They have been to seven fires, and turned out to three alarms.

MECHANIC, NO. 4.—NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

They have a good company, and are always ready and willing to do their duty. They have turned out to eleven fires, worked at four, and also turned out to one alarm.

NONANTUM, NO. 5.—NEWTON CORNER.

This engine has no company, but is in good working-order, and is kept as a relief engine at that village.

EMPIRE, NO. 5.—NEWTON CORNER.

We consider her of no use to the town; and we recommend that she be sold, and also the house built for her.

EAGLE, NO. 6.—NEWTON CENTRE.

This engine has been put in thorough repair the past year. They have a good company, and hold themselves in readiness for duty anywhere in town. They have turned out to four fires, worked at two, and turned out to three alarms.

VOLUNTEER HOOK AND LADDER, NO. 3—WEST NEWTON.

This is a volunteer organization, furnishing their own carriage, and using the town hooks and ladders, under the direction of the board of engineers. They have been organized about four months; have worked at two fires, and turned out to three alarms.

We would state in this connection, that we consider a hook and ladder carriage, properly managed, a very important branch of the service, and would recommend two or more to be purchased, and located in different parts of the town.

The police department have been on hand at the fires during the year, and have aided us in keeping order, and in the protection of property.

R. M. LUCAS, Chief Engineer.

WEST NEWTON, Feb. 1, 1871.

REGISTRAR'S REPORT FOR 1870.

THE following statistics of births, intentions of marriage, marriages, and deaths, in Newton, prepared by the clerk, are for the year 1870, beginning with Jan. 1, and ending with Dec. 31.

There were 34 others recorded; mostly those who were born in other places, and had removed to Newton previous to the time of taking the registration. Most of these would have no record at all, if not recorded here.

There were three pairs of twins born in Newton in 1870.

The least number of births in any one month was 13, in April.

The greatest number was 36, in December.

INTENTIONS OF MARRIAGE.

The whole number of couples who received certificates was 136

In which both parties belonged to

Newton 63=126 persons

In which but one party belonged to Newton 73= 73 “

Making 199 persons who entered their intentions, and received certificates, and who were probably all married: 35 persons more than during the year 1869.

The record of intentions of marriage shows the true number of persons who are married; the law requiring a certificate from the city or town clerk where each party resides.

While it belongs to the city or town clerk to obtain the answers to the legal questions upon the certificates, it belongs to the parties who perform the marriages to know that two certificates are obtained by the parties to be married, if they reside in two different towns or cities in this Commonwealth.

MARRIAGES.

The whole number of marriages recorded in Newton for 1870 is 125; 16 couples more than in 1869.

In which one or both parties belonged to Newton .. 115

In which neither party belonged to Newton 10

The greatest number of marriages in any one month was 18, in September; and the same in November: the least number was 4, in March.

The first marriage of 229 persons.

The second “ “ 19 “

The third “ “ 2 “

One marriage which took place 1869 was also recorded; the certificate not having been returned in season to get it into my return last year.

DEATHS.

The whole number of deaths recorded in Newton for the year 1870 is 133; which is 5 less than in 1869.

The oldest person who died in Newton during the year was Sarah Ayres, 98 years, 5 months, 23 days old.

According to the census taken last year, our population is 12,825. If sextons, and those who have buried friends without employing sextons, have faithfully returned all the deaths, the facts show one death in about ninety-six and one-half of our population, which is the least proportionate number of deaths in Newton, I think, since the present registration law was enacted, — now about twenty-three years.

The number of deaths in Newton the past year by consumption, compared with the whole number of deaths, was one in about eight and seven-eighths; year before, one in eight and three-fourths, — a trifle of gain over the previous year.

Consumption still leads among the various diseases, and perhaps always will, in New England; but our records show a large decrease of the proportional number of deaths by that disease, within a few years, as the following will show:—

In the years 1858 and 1859, about one in four of all the deaths in Newton, were by consumption; in 1860 and 1861, one in six and one-half; in 1862 and 1863, about one in seven; in 1864 and 1865, about one in six; in 1866 and 1867, one in five and three-fourths; in 1868 and 1869, about one in eight and three-fourths; and in 1870, one in eight and seven-eighths. It will be seen that about one-half of the proportionate number of deaths by consumption twelve years ago have not taken place for the past two years.

It is believed that this favorable change has been caused in a large degree by better protecting the feet from cold and wet.

This favorable result should encourage us all to be vigilant in guarding against the first attacks of this disease, which is more to be dreaded, really, than the small-pox or cholera.

POPULATION AND MORTALITY IN NEWTON FOR ELEVEN YEARS PAST.

The following table is very nearly correct:—

In 1860	Population	(U. S. Census)	8,382	Deaths 94	One in 89
1861	"		8,600	" 136	" 63
1862	"		8,700	" 93	" 94
1863	"		8,750	" 149	" 59
1864	"		8,850	" 135	" 66
1865	"	(State Census)	8,978	" 127	" 71
1866	"		9,100	" 116	" 78
1867	"		9,310	" 133	" 70
1868	"		9,900	" 136	" 73
1869	"		11,000	" 138	" 79
1870	"	(U. S. Census)	12,825	" 133	" 96½

By the foregoing table, it appears, that for ten years preceding last year, on an average, the number of deaths in Newton, compared with the population, was one in seventy-four; last year, one in ninety-six and one-half. The average mortality of our State has usually been about one in fifty-four. Truly we live in a highly-favored section of our noble Commonwealth; and we need not wonder that gentlemen doing business in Boston prefer our pleasant villages for their homes.

Notwithstanding Newton is one of the most healthy towns in our land, yet its inhabitants die; and it is probable that one hundred and fifty, at least, of our town, now living, will need a quiet, pleasant resting-place from the toils and cares of life, before the present year shall close: and perhaps one-half the heads of families, from which loved ones will be removed during this year, while they may have well prepared a home for the living, have thus far neglected to prepare one for the dead. We invite such to visit our

NEWTON CEMETERY.

The new entrance is nearly completed; and, after a few trees have been placed by its borders, we believe it will compare favorably with any other in this vicinity.

There are about fifty lots, of different sizes, now graded, and ready for use. A number of lots have been located on the northerly and easterly sides of the Soldiers' Monument Lot, which are as desirable as any in the cemetery. There will be a good opportunity the coming spring to select satisfactory lots; and those who have selected and prepared homes among us are invited to join us in this necessary and laudable undertaking, and have family lots in their own town.

MARSHALL S. RICE, Registrar.

FOR THE

GOVERNMENT OF TOWN MEETINGS.

Approved by the Court, Dec. 29, 1857.

1st, No final vote shall be reconsidered, unless the person moving the same shall have made a declaration of his intention to do so at the time of its adoption, and shall have been one of the majority acting thereon; and no article in any warrant shall be again taken into consideration, after it has been disposed of, unless ordered by a vote of two-thirds of the voters present.

2d, No person shall speak more than twice upon any question, without first obtaining leave of the meeting, except for the correction of an error, or to make an explanation, and not until others who have not spoken upon the question shall speak, if they desire it.

3d, All motions submitted for consideration of the town shall be in writing, if so required by the presiding officer or by the meeting.

4th, Every person speaking shall address the chair, standing and uncovered.

5th, No vote fixing the period for closing a ballot shall be reconsidered after such ballot shall have commenced; but it may be in order to extend the period without such reconsideration.

6th, Committees shall be nominated by the presiding officer of the meeting, unless otherwise ordered by a vote of two-thirds of the voters present; and in nominations at large no person shall nominate more than one member of such committee.

7th, All motions to lay on the table, to take from the table, to take any article from its regular order, or to change the order of business, shall be decided without debate.

8th, The duties of the presiding officer shall be determined by the code of rules governing the presiding officer of the house of representatives of this Commonwealth, so far as they are adapted to the condition and powers of the town.

BY-LAWS

Approved by the Court, Dec. 29, 1857.

COLLECTION OF TAXES.

ARTICLE 1. — The assessment of all taxes shall be completed, and a list of the same delivered to the Collector, on or before the first day of July of each year.

ART. 2. — The appointed time for collecting poll-taxes of persons having no other tax shall be from the 20th to the 31st of July, and all other taxes from the 10th to the 20th of November of each year,

ART. 3. — It shall be the duty of the Collector, during each of said periods, to appoint at least eight different times and places, in different parts of the town, when and where he will meet the inhabitants, and receive their taxes; and he shall, immediately after receiving the tax-list from the assessors, make out the tax-bills, and send the same to each of said inhabitants and each non-resident, as he can find, with a notice thereon of said times and places and the penalties of non-payment of said taxes; and the town shall furnish printed blanks for the use of said Collector.

ART. 4. — At the expiration of the time appointed for said payment of taxes, the Collector shall issue a summons to all delinquents; and, if any taxes remain unpaid more than ten days after the service of said summons, the Collector shall immediately proceed to collect the same, with legal fees therefor.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

No action shall be had at any town meeting on the report of any committee previously chosen, unless the same shall be specially notified in the warrant for calling said meeting.

PASTURING OF CATTLE OR OTHER ANIMALS IN STREETS AND WAYS.

No person shall pasture cattle or other animals in or upon any of the streets or ways in the town of Newton, either with or without a keeper, under the penalty of five dollars for each and every such offence; and it shall be the duty of the Selectmen to prosecute every violation of this By-Law; and all fines or penalties collected for such offences shall be paid to the Treasurer for the use of the town.

CONCERNING

Truant Children and Absentees from School.

Adopted March 2, 1863.

SECTION 1. — The town of Newton hereby adopts the provisions of the forty-second chapter of the General Statutes of this Commonwealth, so far as applicable to Truant Children and Absentees from School, and all the provisions of the two hundred and seventh chapter of the Acts of 1862, and the several Acts in addition thereto, or in amendment thereof.

SECT. 2. — Any person convicted of any offence described in said Acts, or either of them, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding twenty dollars, or by confinement in any institution of instruction, house of reformation, or suitable situation, which shall be provided for the purpose, for a term not exceeding one year.

SECT. 3. — The Selectmen of the town shall provide a suitable lock-up, or institution of instruction, or house of reformation, or some other suitable place in the poor-house belonging to the town, or some other place in the town aforesaid, or in the County of Middlesex, which shall be assigned and used for the confinement of persons convicted and sentenced to confinement under said Acts.

SECT. 4. — Three Truant Officers shall be annually chosen in the town of Newton, at its Annual Meeting in March, to serve one year, whose duty it shall be to make complaints of all persons who have violated any provisions of the Acts aforesaid, or either of them.

SECT. 5. — The Selectmen of the town shall fix the amount of compensation of said Truant Officers, for their services, as they shall think just; and the sum shall be paid from the treasury of the town.

SECT. 6. — It shall be the duty of the School Committee, and of the teachers of the public schools in said town, to report the name of every person or persons violating any or either of said Acts, to the Truant Officers of the town, that they may be complained of therefor.

To the foregoing By-Laws the following was appended; viz., —

SUPERIOR COURT, SUFFOLK, SS. January Term, 1863. I approve the By-Laws of the town of Newton, relative to Truant Children and Absentees from School, hereto annexed.

THOMAS RUSSELL,

Justice of Superior Court.

MARCH 2, 1863.

BY-LAWS OF NEWTON.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

MIDDLESEX, SS.

At the Superior Court, begun and holden at Cambridge, within and for said county, on the second Monday of December, being the thirteenth day of said month, Anno Domini 1869.

The following By-Laws adopted by the inhabitants of the town of Newton in said county, at a legal town meeting, held on the second day of November, A.D. 1869, were presented to the Court by Marshall S. Rice, Esq., clerk of said town, and being seen and examined by the Court, and found conformable to the Statutes of this Commonwealth, are, on this twenty-seventh day of December, A.D. 1869, approved by the Court, to wit: —

SECTION 1. — No person shall play at ball, or throw balls or stones, or snow-balls, within any of the streets or public places in said town of Newton.

SECT. 2. — No owner, or person having for the time the care and use of any horse, shall ride, drive, or permit the same to go, at a faster rate than eight miles an hour, in any street, way, or public place in said town.

SECT. 3. — No person shall drive, wheel, or draw any coach, cart, hand-cart, handbarrow, or other carriage of burden or pleasure (except children's hand-carriages drawn by hand), or drive or permit any horse, neat cattle, swine, or sheep, under his care, to go or stand upon any sidewalk in the town.

SECT. 4. — Three or more persons shall not stand in a group, or near to each other, on any sidewalk, in such a manner as to obstruct a free passage for foot passengers, for a longer time than twenty minutes at any time, nor more than five minutes after a request to move on, made by any Police Officer or Constable.

SECT. 5. — No person shall fire or discharge any gun, fowling-piece, or fire-arm, or make any bonfire or other fire, in any street or public place in said town.

SECT. 6. — Any person violating any of the provisions of these By-Laws shall be liable to a penalty of not less than two, more than twenty dollars for each offence.

After the above By-Laws had been read to the meeting, they voted, That we adopt said By-Laws as By-Laws of Newton.

Voted, That the Selectmen present said By-Laws to the Superior Court for approval.

A true copy,

Attest :

MARSHALL S. RICE,

Town Clerk of Newton.

In testimony that the foregoing is a true copy of record, I hereto set my hand, and affix the seal of said Court, this eighteenth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy.

Attest :

JOHN JAMES SAWYER,

Assistant Clerk.

R E P O R T.

THE Committee has very little that is new to say in regard to the condition of the schools this year. It appears from the last Report, that it was good then; and that it certainly is now, without any very perceptible change for the better, and none, we are sure, for the worse. And yet we hope that our schools have not been without that gradual progress which the united experience of committee and teachers should bring about every year, though in any single year it might be almost imperceptible.

One thing that has contributed to this result is the small number of changes in our list of teachers; only ten having taken place during the year. This is probably owing largely to the comparatively high salaries paid by the town, which, with the attractions of the position, make it easy for us to retain the excellent teachers that we also have but little difficulty in securing. But, while the salaries are high here as compared with those paid in other towns, it is becoming the feeling of your committee, that the time is near when they ought to be higher, not from motives of policy, but of justice. They feel that those who occupy such important positions should be paid, not just enough to keep them, but a fair and even generous compensation; for it is not true of teachers, nor of professional men generally, that the man will command all that he is worth,—a maxim that holds only in the competitions of mercantile life. And it is specially just that they be liberally paid, because the culture which is demanded of them creates tastes which are expensive, and which ought in a measure to be gratified; and this culture itself makes it necessary that the teacher be paid something more than will merely support him. Besides this, their occupation is not such as to cultivate, though they may have, business-habits, and they cannot be expected to make money go as far as those who do little else but manage money. And so, while we are not entirely dissatisfied with the present pay of our teachers, we are about ready to increase it. This is not from a conviction that our teachers are in all cases worth more than they now receive, but that the position is; and it will be the labor of your committee to secure teachers to correspond.

The new school-house in District No. 1 has been completed, and is a monument to the faithfulness, judgment, and taste of all connected with its plan and construction. They feel sure that there are very few buildings of the kind whose exterior is in better proportions whose interior is more convenient, or which are more thoroughly built throughout. At the same time, we wish that the old building, which has some very pleasant rooms, and is far from worn out, had been used so far as it would accommodate the lower grades of schools. There certainly seems to be but little reason for leaving that building idle; and there are some cogent reasons, stated in the Report of the Primary School Sub-Committee, for separating those schools from the others. The motto should be, we think, not "Pull down, and build greater," but "Increase the number of school-houses as it becomes necessary." What has been said about this, however, is not intended as a reflection on the action in this case, so much as to suggest what we think would be wise in a similar case; and much of it has been suggested by our experience there.

Besides the erection of this new building in District No. 1, the school-house at North Village has been enlarged by the addition of two rooms, in one of which has been placed an intermediate school. This, with an intermediate school in District No. 1, makes the only addition to the number of schools during the year.

It has been proposed to abolish the intermediate grade of schools, merging them in the grammar schools. The reasons urged for this are mainly these, — to conform our schools to those in Boston and its vicinity, to secure greater unity in the studies by bringing them all under the supervision of one committee, and to bring the schools more directly under the care of the masters. On the other hand, the labors of the grammar-school committee will be greatly increased by this arrangement, unless, by dividing these labors, we bring back the old state of things so far as the committee is concerned. And as regards the master, while we think it wise for him to have some general oversight of the schools in his building or district, we do not wish to see the day when he shall become, as he is in some places, merely a district superintendent, with but little care of the instruction of his own class.

Very considerable progress has been made toward this unity of work in the various schools by the labors of the sub-committees of the grammar and intermediate grades; but we feel that even more might be accomplished if we had a superintendent to assist the committee in their work. That officer would, of course, give his entire time to the direction of our schools, to the comparison of text-books, and to the study of the best methods of education. The committee can do much; but they cannot, consistently with their other duties, do all that they feel ought to be done. For instance, we do not feel at all sure that the text-books used are the best; but we do not have time to examine them all so thoroughly as to be certain. Again: doubts have been expressed by distinguished educators as to the course of study pursued in our grammar schools. It has been thought, that, after a certain point, arithmetic became so hard a study, that the understanding was not sufficiently developed to pursue it with much advantage; and that therefore it would be better to discontinue it, and with it grammar, for the same reason, from the first year in the grammar school till the last, when the scholar is sufficiently mature to understand, and so to acquire rapidly, the more advanced processes in arithmetic and the principles of language. That is one theory: there are objections to as well as strong reasons for it. But men who necessarily make this a secondary matter cannot decide such questions in their leisure moments: and it is rather for such work as this, requiring broad investigation and patient thought, than for the details of the work, that we feel the need of a man to give his whole time to it. We intend, therefore, to ask for an appropriation for a superintendent of our schools, without purposing, however, to use it, unless we feel convinced that we have secured the right man.

The discipline in our schools is in the main good. There has been a record of corporal punishment kept by the teachers; and we have no doubt that the necessity of keeping such a record, giving in each case the nature and the reasons of the punishment, has exercised a wholesome restraint. Sometimes we fear, however, that the hasty or unkind word may have been used, and that is certainly as injudicious as unreasonable punishment. What we would impress on the teachers is the necessity, difficult as it may be, to do nothing impatiently. There are many times in a teacher's hard life, when he may reasonably be impatient or indignant; but the only safe way is for him generally to wait till that momentary feeling passes away before he either says or does any thing. The teacher's moral influence over the school is as essential as its mere mechanical order. And generally we think that this is secured.

In preparing the statistics from the registers, the secretary has noticed some things to which he wishes to call the attention of the teachers. In the circular sent round by the committee at the beginning of the year, the teachers were instructed to consider the first and second terms as the summer term, and the third as the winter term. Instead of this, fully three-quarters of the registers were returned with the reports of the first and second terms separated, instead of combined. The work of the secretary is, of course, much increased by this inattention to a small matter. Again: the report of each class occupying a separate room should be by itself. The master's and assistant's rooms are not to be considered in the report as constituting one school. And the record of visits should be kept accurately too. Some of the registers are much fuller in this respect than others.

One suggestion that we wish to make, not to the teachers, as they have no right to depart from the uniform rule in this respect, but to those who make and can change the rule, is in regard to the manner of computing the average attendance. The rule given is, "Ascertain the aggregate number of days that all the scholars have actually attended school during the term, and divide this aggregate by the number of school days in the term;" and in the footnote it says that this is "desired to show the extent of absenteeism from the public schools." We submit that it does not seem to us to show that. For instance, a new school is formed in one of the districts in the middle of the term. The scholars who are taken out of other schools to form that have to be counted, according to this rule, as absent from those schools; and this largely diminishes the average attendance, when really the average attendance of each scholar while a member of those schools may have been excellent. And every scholar who leaves the school during the term for any reason, of course diminishes the average attendance, and, if he goes to another school, does the same by that. It seems to us, then, that the percentage of attendance of each scholar, while a member of the school, would alone show exactly the extent of absenteeism. This item might be added to the average in the report.

Something might be done, we think, to increase the average attendance in our schools. This is now about eighty-two per cent. The importance of this has been sufficiently discussed. How to bring it about is a subject to which we wish that the attention of both teachers and parents might be directed. We wish that a generous rivalry might be excited between the scholars in each school, and among the different schools, in this respect. No. 3 is the banner district this year.

The town has lost the services of a faithful officer in the resignation of Rev. Mr. Tucker from this board. We who were associated with him in this work desire to bear our testimony to his uniformly courteous but decided character as shown in his relations with us, to his gentleness and aptness with the children, and to his discrimination and justice toward teachers. And we sympathize with him deeply in his illness, of which we have been pained to hear.

We wish finally to reiterate the old but important advice to the parents, to give the teachers their best sympathies and wise co-operation. We do not mean blindly whipping a boy just because he has suffered the same infliction at school, which is certainly the surest way to make him hold his tongue about every thing that has happened there. But, on the other hand, do not give the child your sympathy in such or similar cases, unless you are very sure that he deserves it. Neither do we mean helping the child over all his difficulties in lessons, as it is often the best drill that he can have to conquer these difficulties himself. But show him that you are interested in his studies and progress; inquire wisely into school-matters; visit the schools; make yourselves acquainted with the teachers; and so help the children and teachers in the important work that they are doing.

An evening school has been established in District No. 5, with good results. And the committee has taken measures to comply with the law in regard to the establishment of schools for instruction in industrial or mechanical drawing. For the Committee,

EZRA P. GOULD, Secretary.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Early in the year, Miss Breck was obliged by ill health to suspend her labors. We are gratified by her recovery from a long and serious illness, and by the prospect of again enjoying her invaluable services in this school. In supplying her place, it seemed best to appoint a sub-master, of whom there was an increasing need. The school is very large; and the details of discipline and management, added to the burden of instruction, weighed heavily upon the principal. Mr. Ezra W. Sampson of St. Louis, a teacher of experience and culture, was appointed; and his success has justified our expectations. He is gradually assuming, besides the care of his classes, those duties of the principal of which the latter ought to be relieved, but which his conscientiousness and love of hard work render him slow to impose upon others.

The extension of the school year has postponed the graduation of the senior class and the annual examination. But we may report the school to be in excellent condition. The year has been a prosperous and happy one. The committee commend the school without qualification. The teachers are earnest, amiable, skilful, and faithful; their personal relations with the pupils almost affectionate, with each other helpful and harmonious.

We may well be proud of our high school. In the comprehensiveness of its course of instruction, the intelligence of its pupils, the skill of its instructors, and every positive advantage for learning, it is all we have a right to expect, while we may hope for more. Of its moral advantages, we see the results in a degree of refinement, courtesy, grace, and mannerly conduct, that can only be maintained among pupils of an age at which petulance, impatience, and discouragement are likely to prevail by the positive example and influence of the teachers. We are bound to say that a large share of our satisfaction with the school is due to the refined moral influence of the gentlemanly principal and his accomplished assistants.

To particularize a certain object of instruction, we find that the young men who enter college from this school pass the examinations with perfect ease, and take high rank in the college classes. And here we may say, that we think many young men of fine intellectual powers, who long for a liberal education, are discouraged from the attempt by their inability to meet the supposed expense. But we can assure such, that if encouraged by the judgment of their instructors, they may, by consulting with the principal, find means to pursue their studies, without injury to their pride or independence.

JOHN B. GOODRICH.

For the Committee.

GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT.

Another year has passed since your committee presented a report of the condition of the schools under their particular supervision ; and again it becomes our duty to record our judgment of a year's work.

This being our second year as superintending committee of this grade of schools, we could avail ourselves of our past experience, and enter more readily and intelligently upon our work.

In a town situated as ours is, some measures seemed to the committee necessary to bring about a uniformity in the work of the schools, and also to improve the methods in all by combining the excellences of each.

We therefore, early in the year, called a meeting of the masters, and, after a full and free interchange of views, laid out the work for the term in the several studies. This arrangement met the cheerful and hearty approbation of the teachers ; and the impetus given has been of the most marked and satisfactory character. Each teacher now has clearly before him or her the work expected to be accomplished in the several branches pursued, and we are satisfied that more and better work has been done than ever before in the same time. A generous emulation at once was the consequence; every teacher seeming determined, if not to distance others, certainly to improve upon the past. There grew up, too, a community of feeling and interest in each other's work, which has added greatly to the general success. Such plan has been marked out for each term; and we are satisfied no measure could have been adopted that would have brought about so great a uniformity and excellence in the schools.

At the close of the last year, having carefully studied the educational facilities and demands of the age, we recommended to the board the introduction of other and higher studies for the first classes; thus enlarging the sphere of usefulness of these schools, from which a majority of our pupils go out into the active duties of life. This recommendation met with the hearty concurrence of the committee; and the studies of the history of the United States, and physical geography, were introduced at the beginning of the year. This measure, while it was most gratifying to the teachers, proved an incentive to the pupils, who entered upon the year's work with renewed zeal and interest, feeling that they were to have something to do other than to review those branches upon which they had been drilled from the day of their entrance into the primary school. These studies will be completed during the year, while no falling-away has been noticed in the common English branches; and we feel sure that we have the entire good-will and thanks of the pupils for enabling them to enjoy a taste of the higher branches, heretofore confined to the high school.

Drawing has also been elevated into a regular study; and a set of Bail's Drawing Charts has been put into every district, while a systematic course has been marked out. Thus far, we are entirely satisfied with the progress made; and we trust, in the future, to be able to carry the pupils still farther on in the education of the "eye and hand," till our grammar schools answer the demands of the statute regarding "mechanical or industrial drawing."

We are also of the opinion that no pupil should graduate from the grammar school without some knowledge of single entry book-keeping; and we are satisfied room can be made for this study by pursuing more true and economical methods of teaching arithmetic, geography, and grammar, upon which so much valuable time is spent.

There has been a marked improvement in writing in most of our schools; while the study of language has received regular and systematic attention by means of written exercises in the various studies. We can hardly overestimate the importance of such exercises in developing a power of expression, which will be in use every day through life; while technical grammar, after leaving school, will be, with most, one of the "lost arts."

Without particularizing, or instituting comparisons, we can say that we have a faithful, hardworking corps of teachers, and yet the results obtained are variable; and in some cases, among our fifteen teachers, we feel that the best interests of the pupils would indicate a change of teachers; and when such is the case, however unpleasant the duty, the committee should not shrink from action.

Our schools are conducted with but little corporal punishment, some teachers never resorting to what may be called the lowest motive power, that of fear; and yet we are not sure, but, in some cases, language is used by teachers as cutting and as unkind as the rule or rattan. The committee desire to express their entire disapprobation of the use of all unkind or ungentlemanly language by our teachers: they should be, in their intercourse with their pupils, constant incentives to purity of word and thought, never willingly wounding the feelings of the most sensitive girl or boy. Thus may they not only secure the affection of their pupils, but so impress themselves upon the mind and heart as to remain a talisman for good through life.

Spelling has received special attention; and much improvement has been made in all the classes, while in some cases, we fear, undue attention has been given, to the neglect of other and more important studies. To be a perfect speller is not the "chief end of man," though good spelling is of the first importance. This, being largely a matter of the memory, should be acquired chiefly in the lower grades, though careful attention should be given it through the entire school age. The results obtained at our recent examinations have been very gratifying.

To the reading-exercise we would advise yet greater care and attention on the part of some teachers. A careful daily drill in vocal gymnastics has a wonderful effect in developing the power of utterance. We do not admire in our schools the elocutionary or declamatory style of reading, hence would not advise it except as a vocal exercise, for which it is very valuable, but rather that agreeable home style, so pleasing in the family circle.

This, we well know, is a much more difficult acquisition, and less showy; but, when once secured, its value will be an ample recompense. We have noticed that many of the schoolrooms are hung with beautiful chromos and engravings, generally the contribution of the pupils. This action on the part of the pupils we would heartily commend, and we cannot too highly estimate the genial, silent influence the works of art exert on the mind and heart: though imperceptible, it is none the less sure and elevating. We also desire to express our thanks for a very valuable and beautiful set of Charts of Natural History, presented to the grammar school in District No. 5 by S. R. Urbino, Esq.; and also the generous act of Christopher Needham in frescoing the walls of the hall in the same school,—action in both cases worthy of a generous rivalry. Many books of reference have also been presented by friends of the schools, thus forming a nucleus of what may, we trust, become valuable libraries in each of the grammar schools.

In conclusion, we would express our general satisfaction with the work accomplished during the year; while it will be our earnest endeavor, by counsel and advice, to urge to yet higher attainments and greater excellence, till our grammar schools, the "People's Colleges," shall graduate scholars thoroughly fitted to assume the duties and responsibilities of citizens of our enlightened Commonwealth; and to this end we bespeak from parent and citizen a cheerful, intelligent, and active co-operation.

GEO. E. ALLEN, ,

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOLS.

Sixteen teachers are employed in this department,—a force laborious enough to merit the sympathy, and successful enough, in the main, to win the approval, of the citizens.

Of course, where the object is so comprehensive, the materials so various, and the methods so far undefined, uniform results cannot be attained in all the schools. We must work by an open pattern, leaving much to the discretion of the teachers. Every school will have a spirit of its own.

Mere personal contact with a teacher of the right mind and heart is of itself an educating power of great value. Its influence, like that of the sunlight, is silent, but constant. The whole school feels it all the time without knowing it. It is bracing, like a good atmosphere. Those "virtues which are the ornament of human society and the basis on which a republican constitution is founded," if they are to appear in the pupils, must first adorn the lives of the teachers.

And, with such a teacher, a school will make better progress in the regular studies of the course.

An irritable teacher, who does not kindly adapt herself to the peculiarities of her pupils, will find her infirmity reflected back upon her from the pupils. The temper of the school, and her own temper, will hinder instruction. The moody feeling of the schoolroom will be carried home and given to the parents. Such teachers, we are glad to believe, are not to be found in our intermediate schools.

On the contrary, we know that many of them are of marked excellence in these general qualifications. Their personal influence is good. They are safe examples of correct speaking, attractive ways, and refined manners. A sound moral principle underlies the management of their schools. They do not counteract the nurture of the best homes. Instead of rough usage, there is much of wise parental thoughtfulness on their part. They succeed in making the schoolroom pleasant to the eyes and a place to be desired to make one wise.

Such teachers we desire heartily to encourage, and to bespeak for them the friendly aid of parents. Whatever is done in social ways to promote good feeling between teachers and scholars will have its reward in the increased happiness and proficiency of the children. Parents may wisely open to the teachers of their children such opportunities of culture as their own homes afford; and no teacher can safely assume that her whole duty is done if she neglect to make herself acquainted with her pupils at home: so far from being an added burden, this would often prove a source of refreshment to a discouraged teacher.

It is gratifying to notice the attempts of the teachers to adorn their rooms with pictures and plants. These are useful as well as pleasing. The listless eye looks up and takes in a lesson of beauty in a twinkling; and the mind grapples afresh with the printed task. Music and gymnastics have such a use, not only as diversion, but also as aids to other things. A little tact will turn them to good account in discipline and instruction.

In general order and neatness, the schools are in excellent condition. Little matters of courtesy, propriety, and accuracy, fall within the teacher's province, but, in the multitude of regular duties, are liable to be overlooked.

In the prescribed studies of the course, the schools have done well. The committee notice, however, a lack of energy and devotion on the part of a few of the teachers. Their schools suffer from it. For example, all do well in the matter of reading; but the excellence of one or two in this branch shows what others might do. With some, there is an impatience of drill in the elementary sounds, and a want of definite aim in the reading-exercise. But we have teachers who bring to this work a purpose and a zeal which the classes quickly catch; and the reading in those schools is spirited to a high degree, distinct, intelligent, and effective. Such a difference exists in respect of arithmetic and the other studies.

We cannot all do every thing. It is too much to expect the same teacher to excel in all points. Classes are not alike from year to year. Now and then, one is remarkably quick and uniform. But teachers may gain much by visiting other schools, observing them carefully, with a view to profit by all they see and hear. Special meetings of the teachers in this department have been begun by the committee, from which good results are expected. All but two of the districts have changed teachers within the year. Some of those who have left us were superior teachers. We were sorry to have them go. Years hence, they will have place in the grateful recollections of honored men and women whose characters they helped to form. Such a prospect is cheering to those who remain in the service. The dulness of the teacher's work is relieved by the thought, that, if faithfully done, the good results of it last for a lifetime. This grand recompense will remain after all present compensations are forgotten.

We commend to the teachers the inspiration of the best motives.

The town is prompt to appreciate the services of a good teacher.

CALVIN CUTLER,

For the Sub-Committee.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

This committee has been changed during the year by the resignation of Rev. Mr. Tucker. Gen. Underwood, who was elected to fill this vacancy, was assigned to the primary sub-committee; and Mr. E. P. Gould took Mr. Tucker's place as chairman of the same. Of course, we do not feel so well acquainted with the schools as if we had occupied our positions during the whole year; and, as both these gentlemen came upon the school committee this year, we are not prepared to report fully on the comparative condition of the schools at this time.

There has been no change in the number of these schools, except that, in District No. 8, the primary school of last year has become an intermediate school.

In District No. 1, the completion of the new school-house has perceptibly improved the condition of the primary schools, which were before confined in very narrow and unwholesome quarters, and most uncomfortably seated. The committee can speak only with commendation of the efforts of the teachers and scholars to preserve both order and cheerfulness in such trying circumstances, and congratulate them on the change.

The committee would have been better pleased, however, to have them in a building separate from the other schools, and free from the annoyances and possible danger of the companionship with older children. And we think that the lower rooms in the old school-house might have been used advantageously for this purpose. One inconvenience resulting from this placing of all the schools in the same building is the disturbance of other schools by the marching, and other gymnastic exercises, in the primary schools. They ought to have these things, and also more singing than other schools; and the others ought not to be interrupted by them. These two oughts make a third, that they be in separate buildings. In other villages, this has been done generally; and the economy of the plan would certainly recommend it.

Of the corps of seventeen teachers in these schools, four have resigned, and one has been transferred to another school of the same grade. Another has been absent on leave for some time. These were among our best teachers; and though their places have been well filled, so far as we can judge, still the change is not desirable.

The length of this school year has made it unnecessary and impossible to confine the course of study within the limits marked out; and so the teachers have acted on what they consider rightly to be the meaning of these regulations, — that they assign limits to which they must attain, and beyond which they may go as far as is consistent with thoroughness and with the health of the pupil. Both rapid progress and these limitations of progress are necessary.

The citizens have reason, we think, to congratulate themselves on the general excellence of the work done in this department. The teachers are mostly both faithful and skilful; and, what is of equal importance, the children are of more than average mental gift and intelligence. Thus the unusually bright scholar is not retarded nor depressed by association with those very much inferior; and those not so gifted have all necessary stimulus; and, in short, the general tone of the school is elevated by this very large infusion of the best element. And so, in two years at most, starting from the very beginnings of knowledge, they acquire very respectable facility in the reading and spelling of simple words, an accurate knowledge of the four tables in arithmetic, more or less skill in printing, and sometimes in writing, and some knowledge of the elements of geography. Often, too, they learn to read not only with ease, but also with expression, and get quite correct ideas of the art of reading well; nor is their knowledge of the tables mere parrottry, but they learn to apply it in examples.

In at least one of the schools, instruction in writing has been substituted for printing; and we think that the good results recommend the change to the general attention of the teachers. The slight strangeness of the letters is more than compensated by the comparative ease with which they are formed ; and so the necessity of printing as a stepping-stone to writing seems removed.

We feel quite generally satisfied, too, with the discipline of these schools. The order is good, and yet the scholars are not ruled with the strictness which would be proper in older schools, but is entirely out of place with them. Pains is taken to interest and even to amuse them ; and so the schoolroom is made a pleasant place even to the very young child.

We think, then, that the teachers who are laying the foundations are doing an important work with the care and skill which it needs.

EZRA P. GOULD,

For the Sub-Committee.

MUSIC.

An endeavor has been made the past year to increase the efficiency of the instruction in music in our schools, especially in the grammar department, where the teaching combines the science and the art more than in the lower grades.

Although no definite examination as to results has been made by the sub-committee, owing to the extension of the school year, yet casual observation has shown us that Mr. Whiting keeps up the interest in those departments under his instruction. By some of our teachers, questions have been prepared for written examinations on music, which show the individual attainments in the science.

The advantages for musical instruction are not equal in all of our schools ; two or three of our school-buildings having no hall for a general assembling. This will be remedied in time. During the present winter, a partition has been removed in the upper story of the Auburndale school-house, which supplies the need there. The school-house at Newtonville needs to be so arranged. This would necessitate the construction of an additional house for the primary schools.

The increasing demand for more musical instruction is shown by a movement made in our legislature, to make that a required study.

Any one doubting the utility of music as a part of an education has only to know the difference in the character of our lower grades of schools, where music is now taught, the cheerfulness, and general behavior, and what it was without a song from one week's end to the other. It is well known, that a child will sing when it is happy, and that it cannot sing when sullen or cross.

In our primary schools, singing is a sine qua non. With a song interspersed with the other exercises, the restlessness of the little ones is relieved, attention is restored to the inattentive, and all care seems driven away. No session of school should pass without music being a part of the exercises. What would a church-service be without music? So with the school. Even our lyceums and literary societies are introducing music into their exercises.

Who knows but what the time may come when our town meetings shall be opened with a song?

There is no reason why the American people should not be as musical as the German. The education must begin with the child. Every one cannot be a musician; neither can he be an orator: yet all can learn to read music as well as to read his mother's tongue.

Finally, we can but repeat what was said last year as to the faithfulness and efficiency of our music-teacher, and the co-operation of the other teachers; urging upon all not to neglect this useful and ornamental branch of our school-education.
